This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INTRODUCTION.

In 1872, the Register of Walter Gray, Archbishop of York, 1215-1255, appeared as one of the publications of this Society, forming Volume LVI. of the series, under the editorship of the then Secretary, the late Canon Raine. Of the two succeeding archbishops, Sewall de Boville, 1256-1258, and Godfrey de Ludham, 1258-1264, no registers are extant, nor is there any trace that any ever existed. The Register of Walter Giffard, who was the next archbishop, and presided over the Northern Province from 1266 to 1279, is printed in this volume.

As Canon Raine in his Fasti Eboracenses (i. 302-317) has given a very full account of the life of this prelate, to which the editor of this volume can add little, and as Giffard had no special connection with the Northern Province previous to his translation to York, it will be more convenient, with a view to save room, to give merely a brief outline of the earlier portion of his career, and to devote the space thus gained to a study of the more important matters referred to in his register.

Walter Giffard was the son, probably the eldest son, of Hugh Giffard of Boyton, in Wiltshire, a man of rank and wealth, and Sibilla, daughter and coheiress of Walter de Cormeilles. Except that he himself tells us that he was educated at Cambridge[1] nothing is known about him previous to his elevation to the bishopric of Bath and Wells, to which he was elected on May 22nd, 1264. In the next year he was made Lord Chancellor of England, and, whilst holding that office, had a large share in promoting different remedial measures for the pacification of the country, which had fallen into a state of deplorable confusion after the death of Simon de Montfort. Many of the documents relating to these measures have been printed in the Letters from Northern Registers. His next promotion was to the primacy of the Northern Province. A considerable interval had elapsed since the death of Godfrey of Ludham, the previous archbishop, which occurred on Jan. 12th, 1264-5. John of Langton, or Rotherfield, Dean of York, was elected on March 12th following, but his election was set aside by the pope, Clement IV., who by a bull[2], dated Nov. 24th, 1265, nominated Boniface, the head of the Friars Minor, and afterwards known as the Seraphic Doctor. Boniface, however, refused to accept the dignity, and the pope promoted Walter Giffard by a papal provision, dated Oct. 15th, 1266. He was enthroned on Nov. 1st,[3] and obtained restitution of the [3] Although in No. 655 Giffard on Jan. 9, 1266-7, dates a document in the first year of his consecration, he is spoken of as "in dominum Eboracensem postulatus," shortly before Jan. 27 in that year, and as "elect," on Jan. 24, March 15, and April 6 (Nos. 631, 283, 586, and 648B).

temporalities on Dec. 26th following. He died on April 25th, 1279,[1] and was interred in the Minster, probably in the choir. His brother, Godfrey Giffard, bishop of Worcester, was his heir.[2]

His register comprises 146 folios of parchment (11 × 7), and six insertions, all written in a contemporary hand. At the commencement is a brief index written on paper, compiled by the antiquary Torre, towards the close of the seventeenth century. To him also is due the pagination throughout. Till last year the register was encased in a slight parchment cover, but it is now substantially bound in half Morocco by Messrs. Eyre and Spottiswoode, bookbinders to the British Museum, and the manuscript has thus been rendered secure from injury. The volume is divided into two portions, the second commencing at p. 253. It had originally been used by Giffard as his register when bishop of Bath and Wells, and the portion relating to that diocese has been printed in Volume xiii. of the Somerset Record Series, which appeared in 1899. In editing this register it has been found convenient to give all formal documents, such as institutions, briefly in English. All other documents are given in full, except those of a public character, which have been printed elsewhere, or those which relate to local affairs or persons, which have already appeared in the publications of this Society. Numbers have been prefixed to the documents to facilitate reference.

This register, though much fuller than that of Archbishop Gray, is very far from perfect. The long periods of time for which there is no record show that a great deal must have been omitted. The earliest date is Jan. 24, 1266-7 (No. 283), and the earliest record of any official act performed within the diocese is dated at Cawood, on May 20, 1267 (No. 60), although the archbishop did not come permanently into residence until the autumn of that year. Up to the close of 1272 the entries are numerous enough to render it possible to compile a fairly complete itinerary of the archbishop during that period. He was often absent from his diocese, as for example from Dec. 1, 1269, till Aug. 16 in the year following, besides other briefer periods, when he was engaged on public affairs. Although he seems to have resigned the office of Lord Chancellor when he was made archbishop, he still continued a member of the royal council, which necessitated his frequent presence in London and the South of England. In consequence of his holding this official position a number of documents of a more or less public character have been entered on the pages of his register. The more important of these have been printed by the late Canon Raine in Letters from Northern Registers, and the third volume of Historians of the Church of York, both of which appeared in the Rolls Series. After the death of Henry III., the archbishop acted as one of the regents of the kingdom till the return to England of his successor, Edward I., in August, 1274. This accounts for the fewness of the entries after 1272. It is interesting to note that Giffard was in London between Oct. 13, 1272 (No. 269), and the end of January following (Nos. 275, 40), probably awaiting the impending death of Henry III., which happened on Nov. 16, and afterwards taking part in providing for the quiet succession of Edward. From the last of these entries, with the exception of a single entry on July 25, 1273 (No. 41), when the archbishop was at Theyden (probably one of the places of that name in Essex), the register is silent concerning his movements till Sept. 23, 1274, when we find him again in his diocese at Scrooby (No. 863, p. 286).[1] Apart from his official duties in England, absence in foreign parts abroad kept him away from his diocese. On Feb. 28, 1274, he had letters of protection whilst beyond the seas (Calendar of Patent Rolls (1272-1281), p. 44); and an entry on the Close Rolls[2] shews that the object of his journey was to attend the Council of Lyons. This very important Council, known as the Fourteenth General Council, sat from May 7 to July 17 in 1274, and effected a temporary reconciliation between the Greek and Roman

[1] According to No. 800, the Archbishop executed a deed at Hexham, on August 20, 1274, but this is contradicted by No. 851, from which it would appear he was still in London.

[2] Walter Barbur of Stok, who is going with the Archbishop of York to the Council of Lyons by the King's licence, has given power to John de Beningeworth to make attorneys in his place until the quinzaine of St. John the Baptist. Churches. The archbishop also had letters of protection whilst he was abroad on Feb. 5, 1275 (Calendar of Patent Rolls (1272-1281), p. 78).

The state of confusion which prevailed in the kingdom at large is reflected in this register, for its arrangement is in many respects chaotic, falling far short of the systematic arrangement introduced by Archbishop Romanus (1285-1296). Many important portions of the diocese are entirely ignored. The first heading for the Archdeaconry of Richmond (p. 37), contains no entry relating thereto, and when it occurs the second time (p. 289), only a single entry. The information as to the Peculiars, such as Southwell, Ripon, Beverley, Hexham, and St. Oswald's, Gloucester, instead of being gathered together into separate sections, as is the case with later registers, is scattered through the volume, and is very meagre. Little is told about the dependent sees of Durham and Carlisle, and only place in the latter which is referred to is Caldbeck (No. 351).

The unsettled condition of the country is shewn also by the number of claimants of the same living. To the church of Adlingfleet, which had belonged to John de Eyvile, one of Simon de Montfort's adherents, there were five presentations or collations made by ten different persons, and for Stonegrave there were three applicants. The tribunal by means of which the archbishop made inquiry concerning the title of the patron and the fitness of the presentee was composed of members of the rural deanery in which the church alleged to be vacant was situated, and good examples of such inquisitions are found in Nos. 125 and 170, taken on vacancies at Gargrave and Rillington. But this most interesting class of document occurs only in the first part of this volume. The presentee seems to have appeared in person at the inquisition, as in one case (No. 291) his age was judged from his personal appearance. Many of the presentees were in minor orders. In the case of a vacancy at West Retford (Nos. 298, 303), one of the presentees was an acolyte and the other had received only the first tonsure. In each case the patrons were of high rank, Sir Henry of Almaine, nephew of the King, and Prince Edward, afterwards King Edward I. The archbishop himself set a bad example, as he conferred the archdeaconry of York on his brother, Godfrey Giffard, afterwards Bishop of Worcester, while only in minor orders and in possession of many other benefices (p. 10). At Bossall it appears that William of Rotherfield, probably a relative of the Dean of York, though only in subdeacon's orders, was beneficed elsewhere (No. 164).

To obviate the scandal which would have arisen if persons not duly qualified were permitted to hold livings, it was the archbishop's custom to command the presentee to come to the next ordination, and in the meantime to commit the custody of the living to some suitable person nominated by himself. Cases of this kind occurred at Linton, Bransby, and Treswell. At Skipton-in-Craven (No. 589) the archbishop refused to institute Stephen of Bradley, presented by the prior and convent of Bolton, on the ground that he was all but totally illiterate (fere totaliter illiterato), and collated Nicholas of Fangfoss. By order of Cardinal Otto, who had been legate in England in 1237, all vicars were required to proceed to the priesthood within a year after their institution (No. 711). The archbishop strictly enforced this rule, and in one case (No. 711) he deprived an incumbent who failed to comply with it.

In addition to these matters the members of the inquisition were required to express their opinion as to the fitness of the presentee to perform the duties of the living to which he had been presented. Their reports were almost universally favourable,—"Quo ad mores, etatem, et scienciam laudabile perhibetur testimonium," or "Est ydoneus, legitimus, et bone et honeste conversationis" is the usual form. The Nottinghamshire inquisitors were very cautious in some cases (Nos. 292, 294, 298) in expressing an opinion, and qualified what they had to say concerning the presentee's fitness by adding, "Quantum humana fragilitas scire permittit," thus admitting they might be mistaken. The value of the living and the different burdens to which it was subject were also duly ascertained.

Besides enforcing the rule that beneficed clergy should be ordained priests, the archbishop endeavoured as far as he could to put a stop to plurality, which then and for long afterwards was a crying scandal. In a list of articles (No. 824), as to which certain commissaries were appointed to make inquiries, in 1275, the question of plurality occupied the first place, and in an earlier, but undated, mandate (No. 748), he directed that offenders in this matter should be cited before him, to produce their dispensations to hold more than one benefice if they had any. With Bogo de Clare, a son of the Earl of Gloucester and Hertford, and one of the most notorious pluralists of the age, the archbishop was unsuccessful in his attempts to eject him from some of his numerous livings, notably from Adlingfleet, which was still in Clare's possession in the time of Giffard's successor, William Wickwane. In one place (p. 11) Clare is said to have been in possession of over thirty benefices, though he had no dispensation to hold them, and was totally unfitted to do so from defect in age, orders, and knowledge. Another high-born pluralist, William Percy, not content with holding many churches with cure of souls without any dispensation, lived like a soldier, ran after the Court in a shameless manner, and filled many offices forbidden by the Canon Law to clerks (No. 822). Master John Clarell, rector of Hooton Roberts (No. 133), is another instance of the extent of this evil. When he was already in possession of six churches and a prebend, he obtained a dispensation to hold an additional church with cure of souls.

Difficult as it was for the archbishop to cope with pluralists of native birth, he found those of foreign origin quite invincible. Quartered on the diocese by the Pope himself, they were all furnished with dispensations, so that the archbishop could not eject them. The number of foreigners holding preferment in the diocese was very considerable. In his own cathedral five prebends were in their hands (Nos. 71, 143, 579, 902, and p. 94[n]), and two others were claimed by them (Nos. 636, 753), in addition to an annual pension of one hundred marks from the prebends of Warthill and Newbald, due to Cardinal Ottobonus (No. 24). An Italian held the important office of Archdeacon of Cleveland (No. 358); and the sacristan of the richly endowed chapel of St. Mary and the Angels, to which thirteen parish churches, distant and remote from one another, were annexed, was in the possession of another Italian, a brother of the legate Ottobonus (Nos. 579, 580). To keep in with the Roman Curia the archbishop had to pay from his own resources an annual pension of ten marks to the Archdeacon of Agde, in the South of France (No. 38). At Ripon (No. 579), one prebend was held by a foreigner, and at Southwell (No. 317), two of the prebends were subject to a charge of fifty marks a year in favour of the Pope's nephew, Adenulf, who later on (No. 356) was authorised by the Pope to receive the whole of the income arising from his benefices in this country, notwithstanding any custom or statute which provided that absentees should only receive half, or some fixed portion. It would be interesting to find out how this disagreement between the Pope's licence and the law of the realm was settled. The churches of Skipwith, Fishlake, Felixkirk, and High Hoyland[1] were all held by aliens (Nos. 357, 606, 649, 901).

Even with the officials of native birth the archbishop had some difficulty in maintaining friendly relations. His chancellor, William Wickwane, who afterwards succeeded him in the archbishopric, accused him of encroaching upon his rights and robbing him of certain fees pertaining to his office (No. 145). With the Archdeacon of Cleveland, who was a foreigner, as is mentioned above, it was not to be expected that his relations would be cordial. According to the archbishop's statement (No. 351), the archdeacon treated him very ungratefully. He had always been the archdeacon's friend, and he was astonished to find him accusing him to the Pope. Although this friction existed between them, the archbishop attached great weight to the archdeacon's opinion, and in one case, wrote a special letter to ask his advice on a matter of difficulty (No. 650). The most troublesome dignitary with whom Giffard had to deal was the Archdeacon of Nottingham, Thomas de Wyten, who had to be publicly admonished to be obedient (No. 43).

Money difficulties were amongst the most pressing of the troubles by which the archbishop was harassed. Obtaining the pall from Rome must have been a very costly proceeding (No. 580A), and, although the Pope, with the object of lightening the burden of debt on his church, allowed him to retain the first fruits of vacant livings, and a quarter of the fruits of the churches, dignities, and prebends in his collation (No. 45), money had more than once to be borrowed for the purpose of expediting his business at the Roman Curia (Nos. 36, 444, 629).

The archbishop found that borrowing money to pay the expenses of his proctors at the Court of Rome was like falling into a whirlpool of usury (usurarum vorago) (No. 444). He was weighed down not only by his own debts, but by those of his predecessor; and when he was seeking the good offices of one of the cardinals, he made his poverty an excuse for the smallness of his gift, praying that regard should be paid rather to the good will of the sender than to the scantiness of the present (No. 575). As time went on his position grew worse. In the spring of 1270 all his means were exhausted, both his official income and that derived from his patrimonial estates, and he was so deeply in debt that it was impossible for him to visit the Apostolic See (No. 601). In three undated letters which occur in the register immediately after the one last mentioned, the same tale is repeated. Everything was against him. Things were going from bad to worse. Quarrels, fears of future disturbance, and the burden of debt, brought him many sleepless nights. A couple of years later (No. 463) he was forced to plead for time in which to pay his debts, and suggested as a means to relieve the pressure, that some of them should be transferred to the dean and chapter. This continued lack of ready money necessitated frequent recourse to Italian merchants from Lucca, Siena, and Florence, the great money lenders of that age. In the summer of 1275, he still owed 648*li.* to some Lucca merchants (No. 853). This is the latest entry in the register relating to the subject of borrowing money, but it is very improbable that his financial embarrassments altogether ceased then. While the archbishop could fairly plead that his pecuniary troubles were due to debts incurred by his predecessors, hard times, and the exactions of the Curia, there were other causes contributing to his impoverishment, for which he was himself responsible. One of the chief of these was his liberality. To his own relations he was a most generous friend. He paid his mother's debts in 1268 (No. 397), made presents to Agatha Giffard (Nos. 458, 503), and gave 60*li.* to J. Giffard (No. 458), probably a sister and brother. His other sisters were treated in an equally generous manner. Maude paid him a visit in 1268, which cost him 55*s.* 5*d.* (No. 533). Alice de Mandeville, who seems to have been his favourite sister, constantly received pecuniary tokens of his love (Nos. 424, 503, 527, 531), besides a belt worth 40*s.*, and 33*s.* 4*d.* for the expense of her journey from Guilford to Churchdown (No. 458). His affection for her was so great that even her nurse shared in his largesse (No. 503). His nephews, Hugh de Babington and Robert de Escote, who was probably a son of Lady L. de Escote, to whom the archbishop made a present of 100*s.* (No. 458), were appointed to positions of trust about his person (Nos. 501, 850, 306). His method of providing for his brother Godfrey, by appointing him to the archdeaconry of Cleveland, has been already mentioned.[1] The relative whose later career best justified the archbishop's generosity was William of Greenfield, who occupied the See of York, 1304-1315. Canon Raine in his Fasti Eboracenses (p. 362) states that Greenfield was connected with the Giffard family, but does not give the exact relationship. The archbishop seems to have defrayed his expenses in Oxford, whither he had already gone in the summer of 1260 (No. 490), and where he still was in the November of the following year (No. 503). To enable his relative to maintain himself in a suitable manner he conferred on him a prebend in Southwell Minster, on Dec. 29, 1269 (No. 353), which he resigned for one in Ripon in 1272 (No. 259), this last he still possessed at the end of 1275 (No. [illegible]), the latest mention of his name in this register. [illegible] the archbishop, Master John le Romeyn, [illegible] in his bounty, receiving a sum of 13*li.*

[illegible] another [illegible] who was [illegible] Suffolk [illegible] and died [illegible] Close Rolls (1272-1279), p. 172). Of his sister, Mabel, who was successively abbess of Elstow and Shaftesbury, there is only one notice, and that not favourable (No. 612).

6*s.* 8*d.*, part of a debt due to the archbishop at Paris, so that Romeyn may have taken his degree at that University (No. 503), a supposition which is rendered more likely by the fact that the archbishop paid 12*d.* to the beadle of the English Nation in that University (No. 458).

The same kindly spirit appears in a grant of considerable value, made to an old family servant (No. 560). It is true that this grant is crossed out; but a gift of 7*li.* 3*s.* 0*d.* for silk and linen was probably made as a consolation (No. 503). Gifts to his chaplain, his washerwoman, and his barber were all prompted by the same kindly feeling (Nos. 396, 458, 503).

The archbishop's household expenses were very heavy. The separate items are not given, only the general term, household expenses, and it is possible that there are omissions. The following are sums total for three years, during which the accounts seem to be fairly complete:—

Household expenses..	567	3	8	838	0	0	918	11	4
Wine	167	15	0	70	0	0	32	7	8
	734	18	8	908	0	0	950	19	0

or an average of 862*li.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

Even this large sum does not by any means represent the real cost the archbishop was put to for housekeeping. Most of the provisions would be furnished from his different estates, and so would cost nothing in actual money. It is to be feared that this lavish expenditure must have greatly embarrassed the archbishop, who was already deeply indebted, not only on his own account for expenses incurred at his installation and at the Roman Curia for obtaining the pall and for other matters relating to the See, but also for obligations for which his predecessors had made him liable.

There is one very important class of documents in which the York registers are very rich, namely, the visitations by the archbishop of different religious houses in his diocese. In this register are recorded visitations by Giffard's predecessors, Walter Gray and Godfrey Ludham, of the Augustinian Priories of St. Oswald at Gloucester, and Newburgh; and by Giffard himself of Bolton, Felley, and Newburgh, all of the same Order, and also of the house of Cistercian Nuns at Swine. The great Benedictine house of St. German at Selby, after St. Mary's, York, the most important monastic settlement North of the Trent, reveals a very low state of morals (No. 919). The abbot, and more than one of the inmates, were strongly suspected of immorality. "Fetidissimus" is the adjective very aptly applied to Black Alexander, one of the monks. At the dependent cell of Snaith matters were little better. Of the clerks ministering in the church two were married. The parish priest, some sixteen years previously, had kept a concubine by whom he had had issue, but for some time past he had been of good behaviour. There were stories about a monk from Selby, Thomas Gundale, but nothing was proved against him (No. 918).

In the smaller nunneries the chief trouble seems to have been financial, as the inmates were not competent to manage their property, which must have chiefly consisted of farms which they kept in hand. In four cases, Basedale, Hampole, Handale, and Nunkeeling, the archbishop was obliged to appoint guardians or stewards (yconomi), generally monks from neighbouring monasteries, whose duty it was to bring the affairs of the house into good order.

The ordination list for Michaelmas, 1268, is the earliest existing. There is no record of another occurring before 1842, when Zouche was archbishop.

There are sulphur casts of two seals of Archbishop Giffard in the British Museum. The first (LIX. 9) is from a chipped impression. Obverse—2½ in. by 1½ in. Pointed oval. The archbishop stands on a small bracket or corbel, full length, lifting up the right hand in benediction, in the left a pastoral staff. + WALTERVS DEI GRACIA EBORACEN' ECC'E MINISTER. The letters 'OR' of 'Eboracen' are conjoined. Reverse. — A counterseal. A smaller pointed oval, 1⅝ in. by 1 in. The impression of an ancient gem, about ⅝ in. by ½ in. Fortune draped, standing to the left, holding in the right hand a winged Victory, and in the left a shield, + AVE MARIA PLENA.

The other example (LIX. 11) is a pointed oval (3¼ by 2in.). The archbishop on a finely carved Gothic corbel, with embroidered vestments, full length, lifting up the right hand in benediction; in the left hand a crozier. Overhead a small canopy of Gothic architecture, nearly entirely destroyed. In the field, on either side, a small niche, resting on a carved corbel, and having a pointed roof with crocketing, topped with a cross, that on the left containing St. Paul, with sword and book, that on the right, St. Peter, with keys and book, both full length. +WALTERVS : DEI : GR'A : ARCHIEP'S : EBORAC : ANGLIE : PRIMAS.

There is also a counterseal of this archbishop (XLIII., 136). Pointed oval ($2\frac{3}{8}$ by $1\frac{1}{2}$in.). The impression of an ancient gem, about $1\frac{1}{2}$in. by 1in. The busts of St. Peter, with short curled hair and beard, and of St. Paul, with longer beard; engraved in intaglio, en médaillon, to the right. In the spaces between the gem and legend at top and bottom two bishops, with hands uplifted in prayer, to the left. SECRETUM DOTANT QUOS DUO SIGNA NOTANT.

In conclusion there remains the pleasant duty of returning thanks to friends who have assisted the Editor in passing this volume through the press. First to the late Canon James Raine, for many years Secretary of this Society, by whose advice and encouragement the work was begun; to Mr. M. H. Peacock, Headmaster of the Grammar School at Wakefield, for having kindly looked through some of the proofs; and above all to Canon Hingeston-Randolph, the learned Editor of the Episcopal Registers of the Diocese of Exeter, to whose great experience and unwearied kindness the Editor is indebted for much valuable help in elucidating many difficult passages.

Appeal by W. de Birlay, clerk, touching the church of Warsop to which he had been presented by the king.

XXII. [3]In nomine Domini, Amen. Anno ejusdem M°CC°LX° octavo, die S. Bertini Abbatis (Sept. 5), apud Thorp juxta Ebor., constitutus in presencia nostra W., permissione, etc., W. de Birlay, clericus, appellavit et appellaciones suas in scriptis recitavit in hec verba:—Ego, W. de

[1] Longa.

[2] The modern names of these places, for which I am indebted to Mr. Thos. M. Blagg, of Newark, are as follows: Lambley, Rempstone, Stanford-on-Soar, Adbolton, now in West Bridgford but formerly a separate rectory, Thorpe-in-Glebis, Hawksworth, Elston, Sutton, now joined with Bonnington but formerly a separate parish, and still retaining its own church and rector, Stapleford, Basford, and Lowdham. Antyngham seems to be in Norfolk.

[3] See No. 23.

Birlay, clericus, presentatus vobis, pater reverende, domine W., Ebor. archiepiscope, Angliæ primas, per dominum Henricum, regem Angliæ ad ecclesiam de Warsop, suppono me et ecclesiam predictam tuicioni et defensioni Sedis Apostolicæ. Et ne aliquid per vos vel auctoritate vestra in prejudicium mei vel ecclesiæ predictæ ad quam sum presentatus, vel eciam in prejudicium dicti domini regis, patroni mei, attemptetur, dominum papam in scriptis appello, et appellationes sive litteras dimissorias peto.

Similar appeal.

Sub eodem etiam contextu appellavit in hec verba :—Cum ego, W. de Birlay, clericus, vobis, pater reverende, domino W., etc., a vero patrono, scil. domino H. rege Angliæ, ad ecclesiam de Warsop canonice sum presentatus, et vos me ad eandem ecclesiam admittere contra justiciam denegatis, Sedem Apostolicam in scriptis appello et appellaciones instanter peto.

The archb. refused to admit him because the dean of Lincoln had been presented by Sir Rob. de Sutton, knt and the inquisition had found in his favour.

Nos, vero, licet non contra justiciam sed ex justa et legitima causa ipsum W. ad ecclesiam ipsam admittere recusaverimus, pro eo viz. quod decanus Lincoln.[1] per dom. Robertum de Sutton, militem, presentatus fuerat ad eandem; quem Robertum inquisicio, prout moris est facta verum ejusdem ecclesie dicebat esse patronum, in cujus prejudicium dictum W., ad dictam ecclesiam per dominum regem presentatum, ad eandem admittere non potuimus nec debuimus, donec de jure presentancium plenius foret discussum. Ob superioris, tamen, reverenciam predictis appellacionibus detulimus, et has litteras nostras fieri fecimus loco apostolorum, quibus sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus in test. premissorum. Dat. anno, die, et loco supradictis.

XXIII. [2] kal. Sept., anno 2, (Aug. 31, 1268). Lanum. Commission to the prior of Blida, Henry de Branteston, canon of Southwell, and Master Philip de Stanton, to received at Blida on Monday after the feast of the Decollation of St. John the Baptist, the defence and purgation of Thomas de Raleya, clerk, accused of homicide.

Tuesday before the same feast (Aug. 28, 1268). Notingham. Letter from the deans of Notingham and Bingham informing the archbishop that they had commanded Thomas de Rale, subdeacon, to be present in the conventual church of Blida on Monday after the said feast, to answer any one who should accuse him of the homicide of Bartholomew dictus Tortus, slain long ago at Oxford, and, if no one appeared, to receive his purgation.

XXIV. 11 kal. Oct., (Sept. 21), 1268. York. Charge by the archbishop with the assent of the chapter of York, and by the counsel of dom. O., S. Adriani diaconus cardinalis, Apostolicæ Sedis tunc in Anglia legatus, in favour of Ancherus, tit. S. Praxedis S. Romanæ Ecclesiæ presbiter cardinalis, of forty marks a year from the prebend of Neubaud, and of sixty marks a year from the prebend of Wetewange, for his life, in lieu of eighty marks a year payable to him under an agreement entered into with archbishop Godfrey (de Ludham) touching the prebend of Wetewange which Ancherus alleged had been assigned to him by the Pope, but which archbishop Godfrey had granted to his own brother. The prebend, which consisted of the church of Nyubaud, was claimed by Master W., chancellor of York.

Fol. 3. Archb. to the dean of Nottingham informing him that certain sons of Satan had set fire to the church of Barthon in-Fabis and broken into it on the eve of the Nativity of the B.V.M.

XXV. Dominica post festum S. Mathei Apostoli (Sept. 23), 1268. W. etc., decano de Notingham, etc. Horrenda nimis piis sensibus et divini plena animadversione judicii relatione plurium intelleximus, quod quidam iniquitatis filii et ministri Satanæ in vigilia Nativitatis B. Virginis prox. preteritæ (Sept. 7), de nocte, ne eorum malicia celo pateret, ad ecclesiam de Barthon in multitudine copiosa manu accedentes armata, ecclesiam ipsam igni concremandam exposuerunt, et demum igne relicto ausu sacrilego in ecclesiam eandem irreverenter irruerunt, valvas et hostia cum securibus et fustibus minutim confringentes, ad festum in quo fiebat respectum non habentes, nec attendentes quod domum Dei decet sanctitudo, cujus inmunitatem quemquam violare non decet. Ne, igitur, dictorum sacrilegorum, si dissimiletur, impietas nos tantæ culpæ participes efficiat, et ne eorundem temeritas, si relinqueretur impunita, ceteris tam perniciosæ presumptionis exemplum derelinquat, vobis mandamus quatinus omnes predictos sacrilegos, et ipsos quorum ope, consilio, vel auxilio tantum facinus perpetratum fuit, in ecclesiis de Notingham et aliis vicinis, ubi videritis expedire, singulis diebus Dominicis et festivis, pulsatis campanis et accensis candelis, publice et sollempniter in genere excommunicetis, et excommunicatos esse denuncietis, donec a nobis de tantæ temeritatis excessu, satisfaccione prehibita, absolucionis beneficium promeruerint optinere.

of one hundred marks a year, payable by the archbishop and the dean and chapter, at the New Temple, London, in the octave of St. Peter and St. Paul, in lieu of an annual pension of eighty marks alleged to have been granted to the said Ancherus, ex mensa vel ex camera dom. archiepiscopi Ebor., by the authority of letters of provision from Pope Urban IV.,[1] until he be otherwise provided for in the church of York; and about which a suit had arisen between the said cardinal and the archbishop, and also between the same cardinal and Master William, chancellor of York, about the prebend of Newbaud. A fine of ten marks to be paid each time the pension should be in arrears. The cardinal renounced all claim to the said annual pension of eighty marks, the aforesaid provision, and the prebend of Neubaud.

He alleged he had a letter from you for the adjournment of the case.

The person joining in this deposed from his office of proctor and those using such letter to be excommunicated.

He alleges that the archb. would prosecute the suit at Rome.

Also falsely that you are suspended by the Legate from collation of benefices.

Sufficit vobis, ut aliis, procurator ad contradicendum et impetrandum, nisi quando habueritis causam, et tunc non sit generalis ad omnem veritatem, set ad illam tantum.

Do not have the same proctor when you are plaintiff as when defendant.

Domine, non vidistis forsitan domini Busonis[1] dispensaciones, cujus procuratores hic proponunt, et cui possetis dicere, cum culpent alii, te me laudare necesse est, at ipse ingratam vicissitudinem vobis reddit. Potestis eciam, si placet, a coepiscopis vestris investigare de beneficiis caute illius Adæ, qui sic proponit, habentis novem vel decem beneficia in diversis diocesibus constituta, et invenietis absque dubio ecclesiam de Alezorp, quam tenet in insula de Haxeholm, Lincoln. dioc., vacantem, quam magna fraude est adeptus; et est de advocacione magistri Hospitalis S. Leonardi Ebor. Expediret etiam illi nobili viro, quod dici sibi faceretis quod non expedit ei tali frui consilio, et hoc videbit in eventu. Indecorum, enim, est talem hominem in tanto consistorio contendere, et quibusdam machinacionibus falsisque suggestionibus alterius beneficium vendicare. Profecto proposuerunt procuratores mei contra eum antiquam veritatem ad Curiam, ex hiis turpibus quæ sua pars proposuit provocati; quia actor primo ponit quod triginta beneficia optinet absque dispensacione, defectum etatis habens, ordinis, et scientiæ; quod absurdum fuerat cuilibet audienti. Et, si permisissem, in Curia fuerunt testes ydonei qui hec probassent; sed distuli, existimans quod vestræ exhortacionis consilio ab iniquo proposito declinabit. Si quid vobis placuerit, michi vestro jubeatis.

Look at the dispensation of Sir Buso. Fo. 5d. And make inquiries about Adam who has got 10 benefices, including the church of Althorpe, which is of the advowson of the Master of St. Leonard's York, who should not use such help.

My proctors assert he has 30 benefices without dispensation being unfitted for them.

XL. 3 kal. Feb. (Jan. 30), 1272-3. London. The archb. to Master Richard de Nedham. In leccione litterarum vestrarum, quas nuper recepimus, aliquantulum turbabamus, hesitantes qualiter de procuratore sufficiente possemus in Curia nobis melius providere. Excusacio, enim, vestra est urgens et dura, quod, nisi a proprio motu processerit, vos ibi ulterius tenere non audemus. Unde rogamus quatinus, sicut mandastis, ante reditum vestrum nostra procuretis negocia terminari, et de creando procuratore communicetis nobis consilium oportunum. Ceterum, quia contra Robertum de Wynton conversum lite diebus aliquantulis prosequta, ipsum optinuimus excommunicacionis vinculo innodari, sicut in actis et sentencia quæ vobis mittimus sub manu publica videbitis plenius contineri, et insuper bona sua potestate regia confiscantur pro debitis non solutis, unde pro Deo ad pacem nostram prosequi studeatis utiliter contra ipsum. Item scimus quod satis vobis innotuit de impetracione archidiaconi Cliveland., qualiter litteras monitorias et cognicionales similiter impetravit, unde nos domino Papæ et ei scribimus veritatem, innocenciam nostram ut convenit excusando, unde oportet quod litteras nostras exhibere curetis uni et alteri temporibus oportunis, et de utriusque voluntate curiosius sciscitari curetis, ut de suo proposito possimus maturius premuniri. Timemus namque quod, si contra nos, quod absit, obtinuerit archidiaconus memoratus, ceteri nos ex inde acrius impugnabunt. Ad hec nuper accepimus quod in causa quæ vertitur inter dilectum filium archidiaconum Estriding. et dom. Bogonem de Clara[1], vos gratis in judicio optulistis ad bonum nostrum, ut credimus. Vellemus, tamen, libenter scire quod sit, quia archidiaconi partem pro viribus cupimus promoveri. De specialibus quidem negociis quæ vobis injunximus impetranda nescimus quid dicere, cum dominus Papa, sicut dicitur, difficilem se exhibeat in graciis concedendis, et eciam non sit facile sibi loqui ; ac insuper, sicut intelleximus, plures de nostra provincia, qua nescimus de causa, contra nos in Curia confecere clamores, licet conscienciam nostram senciamus illesam. Set utinam scire possimus per quos ceperit clamor iste, et quæ nobis sunt imposita per eosdem, ut nos excusare possimus vel errata corrigere, amputando materiam detractorum. Valeatis.

The archdeacon of Cleveland has got letters against me which must be answered at the proper time.

Thanks him for what he has done in the Adlingfleet case.

Many unjust complaints from his province.

XLII. Die Sabati prox. post festum S. Leonardi (Nov. 12), 1267. In porticu capellæ dom. archiepiscopi de Cawode. Suit between Bertram Blundus and Gydo, rector of the church of Rampeston, before the archbishop's official, and Master Gilbert de S. Liffardo, auditors. Bertram demands that Gydo, calling himself rector of the church of Rampeston, should fulfil the agreement made in two instruments in the possession of the auditors. Gydo in reply admits that his seal was appended to one of the documents, but alleges that he was ignorant of the clause about the pension, which was omitted in the reading over at the time of sealing; adding that, at the time of making the deed, it was agreed that all prior instruments, if any, should be cancelled. As to the second deed he denies that he agreed to it. Dicit, tamen, quod sigillum eidem appensum est illud vetus quo olim utebatur. Quia, tamen, illud sigillum, postquam illud amiserat, fuit aliquamdiu in alterius potestate, dicit quod per dictum instrumentum nullum sibi poterit prejudicium generari, quod preter voluntatem et suam conscienciam est confectum, ut dicit. The Holy Land lately and at the present time especially, seemed to be waste and unable to resist, but He in whose sight it is not hard to save by many or by few, lest it should fall into the enemies' hands, as from our own observation seemed to threaten, chose Prince Edward, as his servant, to deliver that Land, who raised an army for that object, taking all the burden and expense on himself.

Fo. 19d.

He and his brother Edmund sailed to that Land, which in a desperate position before their arrival was protected by their valour.

Exhorts them not to be ungrateful lest they should lose the benefit.

Ad quod vos considerationis specialitas non solum invitat, ut premittitur, set evidenti potius persuasione compellit. Si enim debita meditatione revolvitis quantis, progenitores ipsorum ecclesias vestras libertatum privilegiis muniverunt, quanta liberalitatum largitione dotarunt, nunquam tanti beneficii largitores, in predictis nobilibus sanguinis et memoriæ continuatione viventes, in tantæ necessitatis articulo necligetis, nunquam ejus partem ipsis negabitis, quod eis cum testatoris et heredis persona eadem censeatur et utriusque factum idem juris existimatione putetur integrum recepistis, presertim cum eos habituri sitis provide propitios et promptiores vestrorum jurium defensores. To avoid this they must promptly help the cause of Christ and assist the nobles waging the war

He reminds them how these nobles' ancestors have endowed their churches and beseeches them not refuse help, as the person of the testator and heir is deemed the same and so they will have more zealous defenders.

He exhorts them after careful thought to help the crusaders liberally.

To give credence to Raymund de Nogeriis and Peter de Ausona, canon of St. Martin of Tours.

CXLV. Reverendo domino et patri in Cristo, W., Dei gratia Ebor. archiepiscopo, Angliæ primati, suus filius devotus, W., cancellarius Ebor. ecclesiæ, salutem cum omni subjectione debita filiali. Qui populo Dei

W., chancellor of York, to the archb.

Prefers writing as his words will have more effect.

[1] Quousque. [2] Sinuantur.

Those in authority over God's people should weigh their acts so there should be nothing to offend God or cause offence.

regendo divina providentia ordinantur, actus suos debent tanta maturitate pensare, tanta circumspectionis districtione[1] dirigere, ut nichil inveniatur in eis quod oculos divinæ majestatis offendat, aut inter fideles nimium scandali valeat suscitare. Videat igitur vestra paternitas reverenda, quid divina numina, quid humanæ laudis preconia ex hoc valeant digne fari, quod redditum perpetuum de synodalibus nomine cancellariæ Ebor. ecclesiæ, cujus jura et libertates totis viribus defendere tenemini, michi debitum et a predecessoribus vestris ab antiquo benigne solutum, temporibus vestris, unius termini solutione tantummodo subducta, penitus subtraxistis, immo salva reverentia vestra eandem cancellariam ipso redditu spoliastis. Quod, si sic sub dissimulatione[2] transiret, michi in prejudicium, et dictæ cancellariæ non modicam cederet lesionem, hinc est quod multiplicatis jam per quinquennium precum instantiis preces accumulo, supplicans humiliter et devote quatinus prefatum redditum dudum subtractum restitui ac deinceps sine difficultate vestra dominatio solvi precipiat cum effectu; sic me, si placet, ad pristinum officium revocantes, quem habetis et per Dei gratiam instantius habebitis in reverentia vobis exhibenda precipuum, in devotione fidelem, in serviendi voluntate sollicitum, et ad cuncta beneplacita semper paratum. Quid autem super premissis vestra paternitas duxerit faciendum, michi vestro si placet per latorem presentium plenius innotescat. Valeat paternitas vestra per tempora longiora.

Complains that he has not been paid, except once, the rent from the synodals due to him from his chancellorship of which the archb. has robbed him.

Cannot pass it by in silence, so renews his prayer, which he had been making for five years that the archb. will cause his rent to be restored.

Universis (etc. ut supra), Walterus, permissione divina etc., salutem in omnium Salvatore. Ad perpetuam et meritoriam rei memoriam et in honore et nomine ejusdem Salvatoris, Amen. Affectiones et liberales motus misericordiæ qui pertingere non sufficiunt ad finem felicitatis et efficaciam preconceptam, opem consolationis et gratiam præ impotentia et inopia hujusmodi pie deposcunt et merentur propitius prepotentum. Ad sinceram siquidem mentem misericordiæ reducentes quanta, quamquam hilaris et grata, hospitalitas, honorificentia et sustentatio pauperibus depressis, divitibus hospitibus et captivis in acceptabili Deo domo Hospitalis Jerusolomitani hactenus effluxerit crebroque succrescit, ingenti exultatione et gaudio gratulamur. Attendentes insuper quam prona, constans et largiflua liberalitas i[m]mineret multipharie in domo predicta, si votis corresponderet opulentia temporalis, nos super ipsius domus, salutiferis affectibus et reluctantibus inopiis ex compassionis visceribus acrius commovemur, jugiter etiam revolvimus et attente, ac frequenti libramine summam liberalitatem quam dictæ domus fratres Hospitalarii exhibent ponderamus. Nos igitur ad gratam et spontaneam subsidii augmentationem ejusdem domus et ordinis, et ad dilationem meriti nostri, et in presidium hospitalitatis suæ facilius exercendæ, ecclesiam S. Felicis, nostræ dioc., cujus ecclesiæ dicti hospitalarii sunt patroni, cum omnibus suis appendiciis et juribus, in pios et proprios usus dictæ domui et ejus fratribus Hospitalariis paternis affectibus deputamus, et eam certis de causis et necessariis appropriamus, obtentu et fiducia Salvatoris; jure archidiaconali, si quod ibi competat, in omnibus semper salvo. Ordinamus insuper quod dicta domus de predicta ecclesia per manus Magistri Johannis de Craucumbe, qui dictam ecclesiam possidet, singulis annis quamdiu idem Johannes duraverit in hac vita, quadraginta solidos sterlingorum nomine rectoriæ curæ et regiminis recipiat in festo B. Michaelis apud ecclesiam memoratam, idemque Johannes cunctas obventiones, fructus et comoda residua ipsius ecclesiæ nomine simplicis beneficii sine cura libere percipiat et habeat sua vita. Habeat etiam domos et aream annexas ecclesiæ memoratæ, quas idem Johannes possidet, sine contradictione cujusquam, suo perpetuo et continue de cetero ab hac die. Volumus etiam quod ordinaria et extraordinaria, cum acciderent, inter eundem Magistrum Johannem et vicarium ipsius ecclesiæ modo consueto provide partiantur.* Collationem etiam ipsius vicariæ nobis et succ. nostris totaliter reservamus. In cujus rei test. sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus huic scripto. Dat. apud Lanum, xvj. kal. Maii (April 16), A.D. M°CC°LXX° nono, et pontificatus nostri xiij°.

Universis Cristi fidelibus presens scriptum inspecturis vel audituris frater Joseph de Chauncy, sanctæ domus Hospitalis Jerosolomitanæ prior humilis in Anglia, salutem. Volentes notæ suspicionem ingratitudinis radicitus evitare, bona fide promittimus in hiis scriptis vicariam ecclesiæ S. Felicis nobis per bonæ memoriæ venerabilem patrem, Walterum Giffard, Ebor. archiepiscopum, et ejusdem loci capitulum in usus proprios concessæ, integram in omnibus suis conditionibus cum habitatione ad eadem vicariam pertinente, ecclesiæ supradictæ imperp. permanere. Tenore presentium etiam approbantes quod archiepiscopus, qui pro tempore fuerit, dictam vicariam cum vacaverit libere conferat cui voluerit, secundum quod in eadem appropriatione plenius continetur. Quod si contra premissa, quod absit, contigerit nos venire, concedimus quod per archiepiscopum et capitulum Ebor. dicta appropriatio revocetur. In cujus rei test. sigillum nostrum commune apposuimus huic scripto cirograffato. Inquisition

[1] This presentation and letter of inquisition are repeated in Nos. 642, 646. In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) Henry de Angoteby claimed the advowson of a moiety of the church of Rillington against the abbot of Byland. The plaintiff said his father, William, whose heir he was, presented Adam, his clerk, who was admitted and instituted on his presentation, and died last parson of the church. The abbot admitted this, but stated in defence, that after the presentation mentioned above William gave to Byland half an acre of land in Rillington with the advowson of a moiety of the church, and that a fine was levied between William and the abbot. The plaintiff lost his case (Assize Roll. No. 1050, m. 69). At the same Assize Walter de Grey claimed the same advowson against the abbot of Byland and Henry, son of Richard (sic) de Osgoteby. The plaintiff alleged that Richard, father of Richard de Osgoteby, after presenting Adam, his clerk, enfeoffed him in the manor of Rillington, to which the advowson of the moiety pertained. Decision in the abbot's favour, but the letter to the archbishop caused delay, as the title to the advowson was still in dispute (Ibid., m. 77). The same plaintiff, here called canon of York, brought another action against the same defendants at this assize on the same subject. Here he alleged that Richard de Angoteby presented Henry, his clerk, to a moiety of the church of Rillington, in the time of Henry iii., and that Richard's son and heir, Henry, enfeoffed him in the manor of Rillingthon, to which the advowson was appurtenant. The case was adjourned to Michaelmas Term at Westminster (Ibid., m. 93).

[1] In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) William de Percy claimed the advowson of Catton against John de Eyvile, alleging that Richard de Percy, uncle of William de Percy, his father, presented Richard, his clerk, in the time of Henry iii., and that he was admitted on his presentation. The defendant claimed a moiety of the advowson, as the plaintiff's antecessor, Agnes de Percy, gave 100s. rent in Katton and a moiety of the advowson in frank marriage with her daughter, Maude, to his grandfather, John, whose heir he was; and that John presented Ivo, his clerk, to a moiety, and, after Ivo's death Robert de Eyvile, his father, presented the said Richard to this moiety, Richard de Percy presenting him to the other. The plaintiff in reply stated that Richard de Percy made the presentation alone, and this was the view taken by the jury. (Assize Roll. No. 1050, m. 48d).

Licet enim nobis in nullo simus conscii, non tamen inde contendimus justificari, set ad respondendum accusantibus, si qui apparuerint, erimus proniores. Mallemus attamen quod fieret correptio vel secreta insinuatio casus nostri seu defectus cujuslibet in spiritu lenitatis. Archb. to Ruffinus, archdeacon of Cleveland. Is astonished that after his kindness any of his clergy should make accusations against him except that he had been too lenient to those who wrongfully accused him. Willing to face his accusers, but wishes to be rebuked gently. Has done nothing but good to the chancellor & archdeacon, whom he looked on as his friends.

per procuratorem nostrum nichil intelleximus nisi bonum, vosque inter ceteros ecclesiæ nostræ fratres magis habuimus speciales, et spem firmam concepimus, quod pro defensione nostra, si foret necesse, vos murum fortem pro viribus poneretis. Set hoc facit aliquantulum nos mirari, quod, cum nichil nobis tetigeritis de injuriis vobis illatis, ut dicitis, dum eratis in Anglia, taliter voluistis proponere coram Papa, ac si ita essemus injuriosi et duri quod subditos nostros vellemus omnino deprimere et eorum jura penitus occupare. Set, ecce, domino Papæ sicut et vobis veraciter respondemus, quod scilicet jurisdictioni vestræ non intendimus derogare, vel ne possitis libere ea uti quomodolibet impedire. Intelligimus enim quod cognitionem habetis causarum, et ipsam exercuistis hactenus inconcusse, nisi quod officiales nostri quandoque, sicut prius fieri consuevit ad majores querelas, ne videretur negari justitia, resscripserunt, cognoscentes de ipsis donec esset partibus convocatis et in presentia nostra quandoque discussum, ad quem propositæ causæ cognitio debuit pertinere. Unde contigit quod de conniventia vestra et officialium nostrorum quandoque fuerunt remissæ, quandoque processum exigente justitia in eisdem, vobis jurgiis et nobis causis majoribus ut convenit reservatis. De penis autem clericorum seu laicorum pro excessibus, nisi in casu necligentiæ, nichil penitus intromittimus, set illæ quæ non venientibus ad synodum statutis temporibus imponuntur ad vos omnino non pertinent, sicut scitis, nec inde quicquam consuevistis percipere; quia nostra est synodus, et ipsam per nos ipsos vel officiales nostros, sicut nobis placuerit, celebramus. Institutiones quidem rectorum quorumlibet non habetis, set eos ad mandatum nostrum, sicut et priores et abbates, in possessionem inducitis corporalem. Visitatis etiam ecclesias et procurationes recipitis sine contradictione qualibet de eisdem. Decanos etiam rurales simul creamus, et eos de communi conniventia ammovemus, et contra hec nichil omnino credimus per nos vel officiales nostros nostris temporibus innovatum. Et, si contra hec, nobis insciis, per officiales nostros injuria, fuerit irrogata, per capituli nostri consilium faceremus libentius emendari sine jurgio quolibet et querela, et ad hoc nunc offerimus nos paratos. Si tamen elegeritis viam litigii, oportebit obstacula sicut poterimus preparare, quod forsitan non deceret. Ideoque, si placet, vestram super premissis nobis mandabitis voluntatem, et nos libentius condescendemus eidem, dignitate tamen nostra, honore et nomine semper salvis.

Is astonished he said nothing of his wrongs when in England, but accused him to the pope.

Did not wish to derogate from his jurisdiction.

He tried cases except the more important ones.

The archb. only meddled with cases of negligence, and for not coming to synods, which belonged to him as well as institutions of rectors; visitations & procurations belong to the archd.

Super hoc quoque attendimus et communia omnium et privata compendia singulorum per hoc, et regiæ majestatis, quæ decor est regni ac speculum subjectorum, et tutum Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ provehimus fulcimentum. Quid enim in terris amplius et placentius exprimi poterit bono pacis? prelatis, censentes consultius anteferri minora dampna majoribus et secundum sanctorum patrum doctrinam, quæ minori nexu tenentur, super hoc salubriter eligentes, sub certa forma honesta et congrua, toti clero providimus dictis nobilibus, ac ecclesiis, et personis ecclesiasticis certum fore subsidium impendendum. Proviso tamen quod nullo ecclesiarum et cleri presidio gaudeant, nisi prius in regno tranquillitas affecta succedat. Unde majores ipsorum nobilium cum eorum sequacibus ea vice mandata domini regis et nostra, sub spe ipsius subsidii, presentialiter juraverunt, quod quidam in brevi facient, et ipsorum complices qui morantur in Insula Elyensi; et ita, favente Deo, cepit esse tempus pacificum, quod enormiter hactenus noscitur exstitisse[1] turbatum. Ideoque universitatem vestram monemus ac rogamus in Domino, et hortamur attente vobis in remissione pec[c]aminum, auctoritate qua fungimur injungentes quatinus dirigatis, ut convenit, studiosum vestræ considerationis intuitum ad premissa, pensantes quanti muneris vitam habere pacificam et vitare molestam; nichilominus attendentes quod, vobismet ipsis prudenter partitis, si libenter, predictis nobilibus pro communi vestro et omnium regnicolarum commodo subveni[a]tis in quo attendi privatum non potest incommodum, quod favore agitur et jam singulorum; nec pretendatis id ipsum hostibus fieri qui ad ecclesiæ pacem et regiam sunt reversi. Exsurgat vestra in Cristo sinceritas, et provisa tam gratæ pacis primordia non recuset; quin immo qualitas vestra letetur, ac velit hoc sponte nunc peragi quod re ipsa[2] meretur et absque instantia hortatoris impendi. Accedat itaque tam [h]illariter quam libenter vestra devotio ad consensum subsidii quod prosequimur, ut quo nobis gratantius super hoc acquiescitis, eo vestris affectibus alias promptius condescendere debeamus. Nos enim omnibus quorum in hac parte patuerit promptitudo, intendimus esse benivoli, et pro loco et tempore gratiosi. Postremo quicquid exinde faciendum duxeritis, tam celeriter quam fideliter nobis per vestras patentes litteras intimetis. Dat. London. non. Julii, pontificatus domini C. Papæ iiij. anno tertio.

Fo. 62. Visitation Bolton Priory.

DLXXVII. Boulton'. Anno ab Incarnatione Domini M°CC°LX° septimo, iiij non. Dec. (Dec. 2), littera Dominicali currente per B, visitatione facta in prioratu de Boulton per ven. patrem, W., Dei gratia Ebor. archiepiscopum, tam in capite quam in membris, compertum est quod Hugo de Ebor. dicitur proprietarius in pecunia, et eo magis suspectus est in premissis quod dicitur habere pecuniam in deposito, aut penes fratrem suum apud Ebor., aut penes sororem suam monialem de Sancto Clemente. Diffamatus etiam fuit idem Hugo aliquo tempore de incontinentia; factum tamen incontinentiæ non probatur.

Compertum est etiam quod contra predecessorem Willelmi de Danfeld', qui tempore presentis visitationis prior extitit, totus conventus sacramento prestito conspiravit; a quo juramento conspiratores petunt absolvi. Item compertum est quod Johannes de Pontefracto, celerarius, non est multum utilis in officio, et quod plures sunt in conventu magis ad illud idonei. Item compertum est quod silentium in ecclesia, claustro, dormitorio, refectorio, non bene servatur. Item quod infirmi fratres non bene procurantur, nec secundum exigentiam ordinis humanitus visitantur. Item quod Johannes de Ottele, licet professus novicius, tamen in ordine non reddit servitium suum cordetenus juxta morem disciplinæ regularis. Item quod celerarius et subcelerarius, quando vacare possunt, non intersunt divinis officiis nec collationibus quæ fiunt in conventu, et quod frequenter post refectionem conventus seorsum se reficiunt in refectorio lautius quam ceteri fuerant refecti. Item quod prior ponit custodes in quibusdam maneriis irrequisito consensu conventus, qui compotum non reddunt, ut creditur. Item compotus de communibus rebus et administrationibus per obedientiarios non redditur in communi. Item compertum est per confessionem prioris et quandam scripturam, quam, sigillo suo signatam, in visitatione tradidit domino archiepiscopo, quod ipse excommunicavit, monitione non premissa nec in scriptis, fratres Willelmum Hog et Hugonem de Ebor., propter quod suspensus a canone usque ad mensem infra dictum mensem celebravit. Item compertum est quod monasterium de Boulton' obligatum est variis creditoribus in trecentis et viginti quatuor libris et quinque solidis et septem denariis; non est tamen predictum debitum usurarium, eo quod non debetur mercatoribus set convicinis, et fuerat contractum per predecessores hujus prioris. Item compertum est quod Nicholaus de Broc, subprior, senio confractus et debilis, non sufficit ad regimen spiritualitatis interius, propter quod, super hoc interpellatus a domino archiepiscopo, spontaneus ab illa sollicitudine absolutus est; et preceptum est priori et conventui quod alium elegant idoneum, qui sciat et possit et velit dictam sollicitudinem laudabiliter adimplere. Set, quia in electione non fuerat conventus uniformis, dominus archiepiscopus traxit eos ad concordiam, et elegerunt fratrem Radulfum de Eston in suum suppriorem; qui ab archiepiscopo canonice est admissus. Tandem, cum tractaretur de statu dicti prioris, qui occasione scripturæ quam porrexerat domino archiepiscopo, ut supradictum est, videbatur irregularitatem contraxisse, idem prior fatebatur quibusdam de conventu hoc idem testificantibus, quod dictos fratres, Willelmum le Hog et Hugonem de Ebor., non excommunicaverat, et quod continebatur in scriptura de excommunicatione verum non fuerat, dominus archiepiscopus penam priori infligendam propter scripturam mendacem, quam sibi tradiderat, sibi reservavit, usque ad suæ voluntatis beneplacitum exequendam. Cetera vero corrigenda, prout in superioribus continetur, decrevit per priorem facienda[1]; hoc salvo, quod si dicti fratres, Willelmus le Hog et Hugo de Ebor., mores suos quo ad turbationem tranquillitatis conventus citra Pascha non correxerint, ex tunc uterque vel eorum alter, prout dominus archiepiscopus duxerit decernendum, mittatur in aliam domum religiosam, et ibi moretur quousque dictus dominus duxerit eum ad prioratum de Boulton' revocare. Reservavit etiam idem dominus sibi potestatem ordinandi de ere alieno quo dictum monasterium tempore visitationis fuerat obligatum, nisi ultra Nathale super premissis salubriter ordinaverint.

M°CC°LX° septimo, idus Jan. (Jan. 13, 1267-8), littera Dominicali currente per A, visitatione facta in prioratu de Swyne per ven. patrem, W., Dei gratia Ebor. archiepiscopum, tam in capite quam in membris, compertum est quod Amicia de Rue detractrix est et mendax et inpatiens, et odibilis conventui et rebellis, et omnes fere de conventu quando excessus delinquentium in capitulo proclamantur; propter quod priorissa, seu vices ejus gerens, sine adjutorio domini archiepiscopi non sufficit ad correctiones faciendas secundum exigentiam observantiæ regularis. Item compertum est quod silentium in ecclesia, claustro, refectorio et dormitorio non servatur. Item compertum est quod tres sorores carnales et spirituales, scilicet, Sibilla et Bella et Amia, frequenter rebellant correctionibus priorissæ, et quibusdam sororibus secum colligatis contra sorores suas conspirant, in magnam perniciem regularis disciplinæ; quibus adherent Alicia de Scrutevile, Beatrix de Sancto Quintino et Matill' Constabular'. Item compertum est quod infirmæ moniales in infirmaria male procurantur, quia nichil ipsis subministratur, vel parum plus quam sanis comedentibus in refectorio, licet dominus Seerus de Suttun' quondam dederit dimidiam bovatam terræ ad procurandum infirmas moniales et sorores, de qua nichil percipiunt ad infirmariam. Item compertum est quod Alicia Brun' et Alicia de Adeburn' symoniace velatæ fuerunt, quod ut tunc fieri potuit canonice correctum fuit. Item compertum est quod pecunias[1] quæ conventui caritative conferuntur ad pitancias et camisias et ceteros usus necessarios percipit priorissa, quæ potius essent custodiendæ per duas honestas moniales et indigentibus distribuendæ, in alios usus nullatenus convertendæ. Item compertum est quod moniales minus sufficienter procurantur in calciamentis, quia non habent nisi unum par in anno; similiter et in vestibus, eo quod vix habent unicam tunicam in triennio et unicum pallium in viginti annis, nisi per parentes et amicos seculares plura possint sibi mendicare. Item compertum est quod priorissa suspiciosa mulier est et nimis credula, et ex facili dicto prorumpit in correctionem, et frequenter pro equali delicto aliquas inequaliter punit, et longo odio persequitur odiosas, quousque tempus emerserit vindicandi; inde est quod moniales, quando suspicantur quod nimia correctione gravabuntur, procurant comminationibus propinquorum severitatem ejus mitigari. Item compertum est quod moniales et sorores in pluribus sunt discordes, eo quod sorores contendunt se monialibus esse pares, et velis nigris utuntur ut moniales, quod in aliis ejusdem religionis domibus esse dicitur insuetum. Item compertum est quod duæ fenestræ per quas devehuntur esculenta et poculenta canonicorum et conversorum, per duas moniales quæ dicuntur janitrices earumdem minus bene custodiuntur, eo quod frequenter fiunt ibi suspectæ confabulationes inter canonicos et conversos ex una parte et moniales et sorores ex altera. Item compertum est quod porta quæ ducit ad ecclesiam minus caute custoditur per quemdam puerum secularem, qui permittit passim in crepusculo canonicos et conversos ingredi, ut confabulentur cum monialibus et sororibus, quæ porta consuevit per conversum fidelem et strenuum diligenter custodiri. Item compertum est quod familia domini Roberti de Hiltun' militis nimis dissolute vagatur per claustrum et parlerium, et valde suspecte cum monialibus et sororibus frequenter confabulantur, unde timetur periculum. Qui quidem Robertus valde molestus est eis et infestus; unde, propter timorem oppressionis suæ, canonici domus nuper, sine consensu conventus, dederunt ei horreum plenum blado, de quo conventus debuit sustentari. Item compertum est quod canonici et conversi bona exterius sub colore custodiæ dissipant et consumunt, quorum quædam custodiæ monialium committi consuevit, adeo quod licet bona domus, si discrete regantur, sufficiant ad omnium sustentationem, moniales tamen non habent nisi panem et caseum et cervisiam; binis, tamen, diebus in ebdomada aqua pro cervisia eisdem subministratur. Fo. 63. Canonici vero et sui complices satis habundanter et laute procurantur. Item compertum est quod domus de Swyne non potest plures moniales seu sorores quam modo sunt ibi sustinere, eo quod presentes male procurantur in mensa, ut supradictum est, et nichilominus remanet domus obligata in centum et quadraginta marcis ad minus; propter quod decrevit dominus archiepiscopus quod nulla decetero recipiatur ibidem monialis seu soror nisi de consensu ipsius. Correctionem vero premissorum, tam spiritualium quam temporalium, quæ per canonicos et conventum infra breve tempus correcta non fuerint, sibi, quam cito vacare poterit, de consensu canonicorum et conventus, specialiter reservavit.

Visitation of Swine priory.

Letter of credence from the archb. to James de Sabello, cardinal of S. Maria in Cosmedin, for the bearer on the business of getting the pall.

[1] The archbishop seems to have been misinformed. No one of the name of Percival occurs amongst the archbishops of Ravenna in the latter half of the thirteenth century. There was no vacancy in the see between the years 1270 and 1274 (Gams' Series Episcoporum, 718). In 7 Edw. i. (1278-9) Isabella de Fortibus, countess of Albemarle, recovered the advowson of the church of Harewood against William (Wickwane), archbishop of York, and Percival, warden (custos) of the chapel of the B.M. and the Angels, York.—(Assize Roll, No. 1055, fo. 85).

Sentence by the archb. against John of Skelton, claiming the rectory of Fishlake, which was really held by Gerard de Grandisson.

DCVI. Die Sabbati prox. post festum S. Mathiæ (March 2), 1268-9. In ecclesia parrochiali de Pontefracto. Sententia lata contra Johannem de Skelton super ecclesia de Fiskelake. In nomine Domini nostri Jesu Cristi, Amen. Cum Johannes de Skelton, clericus, asserens ecclesiam de Fiskelake, Eboracensis diocesis, per mortem Johannis, quem quondam rectorem ejusdem fuisse confixit, vacantem esse, quodque fructus ejusdem summam decem librarum, secundum communem estimationem patriæ, non excedebant annuatim, ecclesiam ipsam auctoritate Sedis Apostolicæ dudum sibi conferri procurasset, certis sibi super hoc executoribus deputatis, qui occasione hujusmodi discretum virum, Gerardum de Grandissono,[1] capellanum domini papæ, rectorem ejusdem, multipliciter inquietarunt. Tandem dominus papa nobis, W., etc., negotium ipsum sub ea forma per suas duxit litteras committendum, ut, facta super hoc per nos vel per alios de plano et sine strepitu judiciali inquisitione diligenti, si invenerimus quod dicta ecclesia per mortem dicti Johannis non vacaret, aut quod estimatio ejusdem predictam decem librarum summam excedat, eidem Johanni perpetuum silentium imponere debeamus super ea. Verum quoniam per inquisitionem quam per discretos viros, custodem monasterii de Hanepol et decanum de Pontefracto, quibus vices nostras commisimus in hac parte, fieri fecimus, qui, partibus ad presentiam suam certis die et loco evocatis, in penam contumaciæ ipsius Johannis, qui per se nec per procuratorem comparere curavit coram eis, processerunt ad eandem, comperimus quod dicta ecclesia per mortem dicti Johannis ab olim non vacavit, utpote quam parientia cupientes, vestrum quare mandatum hujusmodi ad presens adimplere non possumus intimamus, quoniam in mandato Apostolico hujusmodi autentico contineri perspeximus quod, venerabili patre, dom. Ancero, sacrosanctæ Sedis Apostolicæ cardinali, prebendam de qua agitur in ipsius favorem resignante, aliam ut puta digniorem, quam nondum adeptus est, sibi promeruit assignari; nec aliter ex dom. Papæ vel ipsius conscientia hujusmodi resignatio processisset, nisi acto quod pro cauto habendum est, ut collatam sibi prebendam de Newebald, quam possidet Ebor. ecclesiæ cancellarius, optineret. Cum itaque inter dom. cardinalem et cancellarium supradictos lis pendeat coram vobis, et eadem ratio vos movere debeat quæ quandoque moveret conferentem lite pendente taliter, cujus dubius est eventus, absque dom. cardinalis prejudicio et nostri, ne forte contra nos regressum habeat si subcumbat, exequi non possumus quod mandatur. Ad hæc, vestra novit paternitas veneranda quod canonicorum admissio vel assignatio stalli seu loci in Ebor. ecclesia ad archiepiscopum non pertinet, set ad decanum dumtaxat et capitulum, secundum constitutionem felicis memoriæ Papæ tertii Alexandri.[1] Ista etiam, tamquam executori, nobis tantummodo demandantur, alteri commodius injungi possent quam nobis, qui nondum ecclesiam nostram vidimus nec habemus notitiam personarum. De hiis et aliis vobiscum in brevi conferre proponimus, vestris semper beneplacitis parituri. Valeat paternitas vestra feliciter per tempora longiora.

Quodque estimatio ejusdem ecclesiæ predictam decem librarum summam excedit, utpote quæ ad quadraginta marcas est communiter estimata, sicut etiam in registro nostro antiquo vidimus manifeste contineri. In nomine Domini. Absentia dicti Johannis, quem ad presentiam nostram citatum jam per triduum expectavimus, Dei presentia suppleta, meritis inquisitionis predictæ et negotii circumstantiis undique diligenter examinatis, diffinitive sententiando et sententialiter diffiniendo dicto Johanni super dicta ecclesia de Fiskelake[2] perpetuum silentium imponimus, et dictum G., quem in eadem rectorem canonice Fo. 74. institutum invenimus, ab ipsius[3] Johannis impetitione sententialiter et diffinitive absolvimus. Ipsum etiam J. predicto G. in quinquaginta marcis, taxatione nostra prehibita et ab ipsius procuratore juramento recepto, expensarum nomine condempnamus.

DCXXXVII. W., permissione, etc., viro venerabili et discreto, magistro Sincio, cameræ dom. Papæ clerico et nuncio, salutem, etc. Vestræ discretionis sinceritas, prout credimus, non ignorat quod, dom. regis et regni negotiis occupati, rebus familiaribus neglectis pene penitus, curæ nostræ vel aliis quæ nobis incumbunt quibuslibet, ut convenit, intendere non valemus; adeo quod ecclesiam, sponsam nostram, cui nos dom. papa clementia munifice copularit, hactenus minime, visitavimus, nec illarum partium (quod egre ferimus) habemus notitiam personarum. Ideoque cum vestro superesse negotio non possimus, nec sciamus ad presens cui commodius committi valeat qui illud efficaciter prosequatur pro domini nostri Papæ utilitate negotii et obtentu personæ vestræ, quam recommendatam habere volumus cum affectu, deliberabimus usque quo vobiscum colloquium habuerimus, quod in proximo erit, favente Deo, Cardinal Ottobonus to W., elect of York, ordering him to test the claim by T. de Berneby and his brother, John, against the executors of archb. Godfrey (de Ludham) for money due from the archb.

DCXXXVIII. 8 kal. Martii, 3 Clement iv., (Feb. 22, 1266-7). Apud S. Eadmundum. Ottobonus, etc., ven. in Cristo patri, electo Ebor., salutem in salutis Auctore. Petitio magistri T. de Berneby, dom. Papæ subdiaconi, et Johannis fratris ejus, laici, nobis exhibita, continebat quod, cum nos religioso viro, priori S. Trinitatis London., olim nostris dederimus litteris in mandatis, ut executores testamenti bonæ memoriæ G., Ebor. archiepiscopi, efficaciter movere ac inducere procuraret ut sublata cujuslibet fraudis astucia creditoribus, legatoriis, et familiaribus ipsius archiepiscopi de quibusdam pecuniarum summis, quas idem archiepiscopus, de se ratione personæ suæ spectantes, creditoribus, legatoriis et familiaribus predictis per manus executorum ipsorum exhiberi mandaverat, infra competentem terminum ab eodem priore prefigendum, eisdem satisfacerent, ut debebant; alioquin testamentum prefatum, seu transcriptum ipsius, ac inventarium factum super bonis testamenti predicti sub tribus sigillis autenticis sibi faceret exhiberi, ad nostram illud quamtocius presentiam transmissurus; ac idem prior Willelmum decanum, magistrum Robertum, archidiaconum Estriding. in ecclesia Ebor., et Johannem de Steinton, laicum, Ebor. dioc., executores testamenti predicti archiepiscopi, ut dicitur, moneri fecerit diligenter, ut memoratis subdiacono et Johanni fratri ejus de quadam pecuniæ summa eis ab eodem archiepiscopo dum viveret debita, et de qua eis per manus eorundem executorum satisfieri preceperat, satisfacerent competenter, aut certo die comparerent coram eo testamentum ipsum, seu transcriptum testamenti predicti, aut confectum super bonis dicti archiepiscopi inventarium ostensuri; tandem decanus, archidiaconus et laicus supradicti, certis confictis gravaminibus ab eodem priore diversis temporibus, ad audientiam nostram appellarunt; quorum appellationibus dictus prior detulit reverenter, et ad prosequendum appellationes hujusmodi certum partibus terminum assignavit. Set appellantes, licet aliquis eorum, per procuratorem specialem ad impetrandum et contradicendum, mandatum habentem comparere curaverit, non sunt tamen appellationes suas infra tempus legitimum, cum potuerint, prosecuti. Quare subdiaconus et frater ejus predicti humiliter postularunt a nobis ut principalem causam, cum omnibus ejus accessoriis et appendiciis, subdiaconum et fratrem ejus prefatos ratione dicti testamenti contingentem, contra dictos executores et alios bonorum dicti testatoris amministratores quoscumque, non obstantibus appellationibus et delationibus supradictis, alicui discreto partibus non suspecto, et qui sine magnis sumptibus et labore adire possit, committere [dignaremur]; et ne si forte contra fieret continentiam causæ, esse contingeret in grave partium earundem dispendium, [bona predicta] dividi de benignitate solita curaremus. Nolentes igitur ut ipsius testamenti executio propter hoc diutius protrahatur, paternitati vestræ, qua fungimur auctoritate, mandamus quatinus, appellationibus et delationibus predictis nequaquam obstantibus, audiatis causam, et fine debito usuris cessantibus decidatis, facientes quod decreveritis per censuram ecclesiasticam firmiter observari. W., etc., dilecto in Cristo filio, R., archidiacono Cliveland, etc. Judicium nonnunquam discrepat ab effectu, et quod conjectura prodesse plerumque creditur experimento inutile reperitur. Sane venerabilis pater, O., S. Vos etiam dictum negotium taliter prosequi studeatis, quod ex negligentia vel contemptu argui non possitis. Proviso

Quapropter, etc., quatinus, rejecto conventionis hujusmodi indecenti commercio, ab ipsius senis et debilis vexationis indebitæ dispendio desistatis; scituri quod, si non possitis concordia convenire in partibus illis, vobis faciemus justitiæ plenitudinem favorabiliter exhiberi. DCLXVI. [No date]. Pro apostata penitenti.[1] W., etc., dilectis in Cristo, filiis priori et conventui de Fellee, salutem, etc. Miserabilis et deploranda conquestio[2], ex parte R. Barri, confratris vestri, delata nobis, nostra commovit viscera, et ad hoc efficaciter nos induxit, ut, de ipsius salute soliciti, perditionem ejus vobis de cetero imputemus, nisi salutem ipsius fraterna caritate cum exactissima diligentia procuretis. Verum est nec infitiari potest, quod in ecclesia vestra religionis habitum sumens vinculum professionis emisit, set tandem a stabilitate quam promiserat dampna[bi]li resiliens levitate, de celo ad terram, de claustri honestate, antiquo hoste instigante, revolavit ad seculum, peccatis multiplicibus involutus. Ceterum misericordiam quam regularis observantiæ institutor ad ternarium choartavit, evangelicæ mansuetudo gratiæ septuagesies septies ampliavit, adeo ut errantem ovem ut redeat non expectat, quin potius ex habundanti misericordia, ut in dulcedinis suæ benedictionibus preveniat, eam jubet querere ac salutaribus monitis ab errore et invio ad vitæ semitam revocare. Sane ad laboris compendium vobis cedit, quod regredi nititur, quod ad januam pulsat, quod devote et humiliter misericordiam postulat, quod suum confitetur reatum, quod omni satisfactioni secundum regularem observantiam votivus se submittit, et judicium disciplinalis obedientiæ a misericordia non excludit; ideoque vobis mandamus quatinus, si de commissis, ut dictum est, devota parientia satisfacturum se offerat secundum observantiam regularem, ipsum admittatis comiter conciti et tractare fraterna caritate studeatis; nec precludatur ei sinus misericordiæ ne desperet, cum majus gaudium sit angelis super uno peccatore penitentiam agente, quam qui non indigent[3] penitentia super nonaginta novem justis, attendentes quod misericordiam et non sacrificium affectat clementia Salvatoris, nec peccatoris mortem desiderat, set potius ut convertatur et vivat. Writ of certiorari to John de Oketon and John de Reygate, to inquire whether the canons of Southwell enjoyed the same franchises

Henricus, Dei gratia, etc., dilectis et fidelibus suis Johanni de Oketon et J. de Reygate, salutem. Cum canonici ecclesiæ B. Mariæ Suwell. clament habere per cartam bonæ memoriæ H., quondam regis Angliæ, easdem libertates et consuetudines quas habent decanus et capitulum S. Petri Ebor. per cartas predecessorum nostrorum, regum Angliæ, ut in placitis suis tenendis et in omnibus aliis rebus ad ecclesiam de Suwelle spectantibus; et iidem canonici

Suwell. asserant se iisdem libertatibus hactenus usos fuisse; nos, super hoc certiorari volentes, assignavimus vos ad inquirendum per sacramentum legalium et proborum hominum de comitatu Notingham., per quos rei veritas melius sciri poterit, utrum iidem canonici Suwell. libertatibus predictis hucusque ad plenum rationabiliter usi fuerint, necne; et si eisdem usi fuerint, a quo tempore et qualiter et quomodo; et si predictis libertatibus ad plenum usi non fuerint, quibus usi fuerint et quibus non, et qua ratione. Et ideo vobis mandamus quod ad certos locum et diem, quos ad hoc provideritis, inquisitionem illam faciatis, et eam distincte et aperte factam nobis sub sigillis vestris, et sigillis eorum per quos facta fuerit, qualem vos et ipsi warantizare volueritis, sine dilatione mittatis et hoc breve. Mandavimus enim vicecomiti nostro comitatus predicti, quod ad certos diem et locum, quos ei scire facietis, venire faciatis coram vobis tot et tales probos et legales homines de balliva tua, per quos rei veritas in premissis melius sciri poterit et inquiri. Et, quia de articulis libertatum in carta predictorum decani et capituli Ebor. contentarum vobis non constat, mandavimus eisdem decano et capitulo quod transcriptum cartæ predictæ sub sigillo capituli sui vobis transmittant ad certiorandum vos super articulis predictis. In cujus rei test. has litteras nostras fieri fecimus patentes.

DCXCIX. Non. Jan. (Jan. 5), 1271-2. London. Letter from the archbishop to the chancellor, R. de Mideltun, and others of the council, informing them of the trouble he is in on account of the quarrel between the king and the countess of Flanders, and that moreover the king of France turns against them. The bearer, Sir John de Castello, believes the difficulty can be arranged; if they think so, they are to send him to try to do so. (Printed in Letters from Northern Registers, p. 41).

DCC. Kal. Aug. (Aug. 1), 1263. Burton. Ordinatio facta super vicaria ecclesiæ de Roreston. Universis, etc., G., miseratione divina Ebor. archiepiscopus, Angliæ primas,[1] salutem in Domino. Nuper coram nobis prior et conventus monasterii de Bretton, ordinis Cluniacensis, humiliter supplicarunt, ut cum dudum per taxacionem vicariæ de Roreston, factam ab W., bonæ memoriæ, predecessore nostro,[2] ab eorum emulis forsitan circumvento, Ordination of a vicarage in the church of Royston, belonging to the priory of Monk Bretton.

Nos, itaque depressioni status domus ipsius in qua regularis observantia ad laudem divini nominis laudabiliter vigere consueverat pio compatientes affectu, de expresso consensu[1] magistri Innocentii, vicarii ecclesiæ de Roreston[2] prefatæ, in relevationem monasterii antedicti,[3] concedimus et ordinamus, quod prior et conventus domus prescriptæ,[4] preter decimas garbarum, quas in parrochia (ejusdem) ecclesiæ de Roreston[5] ante tempus hujusmodi concessionis et ordinationis habuerunt, decimas de Cutheworth[6] quæ ad vicariam spectare consueverant, post decessum vel cessionem predicti magistri Innocentii ad eorum sustentationem habeant imperp., ita quod nullus vicarius, post eundem magistrum Innocentium admittendus, in decimis garbarum villæ predictæ aliquid juris vel clamii sibi valeat vendicare.

Annexation of the church of Mexborough to the Archdeaconry of York.

Cum nuper coram nobis inter magistrum R. de Skipton, archidiaconum Ebor., ex una parte, et priorem et conventum de Bretton, et magistrum Alanum de Sexdecimvallibus, ex altera, super consolidatione ecclesiæ de Mikesburg' in nostra diocesi constitutæ controversia mota fuisset, partes predictæ se tandem ordinationi nostræ, voluntati, arbitrio et statuto super dicta ecclesia et omnibus pertinentibus ad eandem pure et simpliciter submiserunt. Idem insuper prior et conventus, et magister Innocentius vicarius ecclesiæ de Roreston, in cujus vicariæ taxacione pars[8] dicti monasterii non mediocriter gravata dicebatur, super ordinatione seu moderatione vicariæ ejusdem se nostræ voluntati et ordinationi similiter submiserunt. Nos vero, super premissis tractatu habito diligenti, et tranquillitati partium ac etiam utilitati tam Ebor. ecclesiæ nostræ quam prefati monasterii, prospicere cupientes, volumus, ordinamus, arbitramus et statuimus, quod prenominata ecclesia de Mikesburg' sit decetero integra et archidiaconatui Ebor. perpetuo sit annexa. Volumus tamen et statuimus quod predictus magister Alanus percipiat, suo perpetuo, omnes decimas

We gave the living of Kirkeby in Kendal to Adam de Northfouk', according to papal provision; to this your chancellor, John de Asgarby, objects. We are ready to hear what he has to say without fear or favour, and are astonished at your letter about these matters. (Printed in Letters from Northern Registers, p. 4).

et canonicis, salvis hiis quæ in eorum regula continentur, subscripta statuta indiximus observanda; ea quæ in aliis nostris visitationibus ipsis injunximus renovantes, superaddentes quædam nova quæ animarum suarum saluti et ejusdem domus proficuo[1] vidimus expedire. In primis quod prior qui pro tempore fuerit majora negotia domus cum consilio nostro, si in partibus illis presentes fuerimus, vel illius quem ad hoc deputaverimus, si absentes fuerimus, et consilio majoris et sanioris partis sui conventus, faciat. Quod in refectorio cum fratribus comedat et in dormitorio jaceat, nisi infirmitate vel alia justa causa fuerit prepeditus. Quod si ex aliqua causa necessaria contigerit eum extra refectorium comedere, vel extra dormitorium jacere, unum canonicum honestum secum habeat, et ultra horam canonicam cum hospitibus moram non faciat. Quod assiduus sit ad capitulum, collationem et di[s]ciplinam, nisi causa rationabilis impedierit. Quod excessus fratrum in capitulo cum consilio seniorum sui conventus caritative corrigat, omni hodio et rancore postpositis. Quod affabilem se exhibeat fratribus cum super aliquo conveniatur, et ipsos non afficiat conviciis vel opprobriis coram secularibus, nec etiam aliquem gravi pena ligare presumat, nisi de assensu conventus. Quod nullus admittatur canonicus vel conversus nisi assensu nostro prius requisito et optento; et tunc obedientiam faciat priori, professionem autem nobis. Quod celerarius curam agat de exterioribus sub priore, tam in grangiis quam redditibus et proventibus animalium et aliarum rerum ad domum pertinentium, audiatque compotum a fratribus et servientibus exterioribus, respondeatque bursariis communiter electis. Qui etiam bursarii cum omnibus aliis obedientiariis temporibus statutis, ad minus bis in anno, de omnibus receptis et expensis coram priore et saniori parte capituli fideliliter computabunt. Quod subcel[er]arius in dormitorio jaceat, negociisque domus per actis claves celarii ibidem secum deferat. Quod sigillum conventus custodiatur a tribus vel iiij^or^ communiter electis, et quod nullæ litteræ sigillentur de eodem, nisi presente priore, et majori et saniori parte conventus. Quod nulla fiat alienatio vel permutatio, nec etiam instrumentum aliquod conficiatur, super alienatione[2] vel permutatione facienda, nisi de speciali auctoritate et licencia nostras; quod, si secus actum fuerit, irritum habeatur et inane. Quod beneficia sacristariæ vel aliis officinis domus legata vel concessa non subtrahantur, nec in alios usus convertantur.

Quod canonici tam intra quam extra presint conversis, et conversi nullam habeant super canonicos dominationem. Vestes autem laneas habeant conversi ejusdem coloris, cujus et canonici, exceptis capis, easque de revestiario recipiant. In loco autem competenter assignato eis reficiantur, et ad matutinas cum canonicis surgant, et, prout regula exigit, ibidem commorentur. Fratres autem conversi in grangiis commorantes carnibus non utantur, nisi coram priore vel in presentia alicujus canonici. Particulares vel privatas commessationes in cameris nulli faciant, quia sicut unus est locus quiestionis et dormitionis, ita unus debet esse locus refectionis. Quod canonici ad fena levanda vel alia opera rusticana exercenda non exeant. Quod nullus proprietatem habeat, nec etiam depositum, nisi de licentia prioris. Quod claustruma transitu secularium diligenter custodiatur, et quod hostia ecclesiæ et claustri per custodes ordinis prudenter et sollicite custodiantur, ne quis horis incompetentibus intra vel extra possit evagari, unde scandalum possit oriri. Quod infirmi honeste tractentur, et de bonis domus secundum ejus facultates, prout necessitas exegerit, sustententur. Inhibemus eciam, districte et firmiter injungendo, ne corrodia vendant, vel stipendia assignent aliqua, clericis vel laicis, aut etiam gratis concedant imperpetuum, vel ad tempus sine nostro assensu. Quod mulieres in grangiis ubi fratres commorantur de noctibus non morentur; et si necessitas exegerit, tales ibi famulentur de quibus non possit oriri sinistra suspicio. De decanatu sic ordinamus, quod cura et custodia ipsius decanatus per nos parrochiali capellano dictorum canonicorum, vel alii, secundum arbitrium nostrum committantur; et, si alii quam capellano eorum cura ipsa commissa fuerit, corrodium unius canonici de eadem domo integre percipiat. Ad hæc, pro reprimendis potationibus superfluis et commesationibus inhonestis, precipimus ut nec prior nec canonici in suis grangiis de cetero faciant braciare, set ad eas, cum pro domus utilitate accesserint, de prioratu necessaria secum ferant; in eisdem quas habent in valle Gloverniæ ultra unam noctem simul nullatenus moraturi; nec etiam apud Cumpton vel Eston moram faciant longiorem, nisi urgens domus necessitas et evidens utilitas id exposcat. Prior vero alicubi profecturus pro negotiis domus suæ unum maturum canonicum secum habeat, et unicum armigerum, caute cavens ne domus sua inutili familia, vel suorum vel concanonicorum parentum accessibus oneretur, vel aliquibus debitis de cetero a[g]gravetur. Hæc autem statuta in initio cujuslibet mensis in capitulo precipimus recitari, statuentes ut neglector eorumdem, si prior sit vel obedientiarius, et convictus quod ea non servaverit, ab officio suo cadat; si vero simplex canonicus eorumdem sit transgressor, secundum arbitrium nostrum vel ejus qui eis consiliarius a nobis fuerit deputatus, gravi subjaceat ultioni. In hujus ordinationis perpetuo duraturæ majorem stabilitatem nos presenti scripto apposuimus signum nostrum.

DCCVII. 5 idus Nov. (Nov. 9), 1267. Cawode. Ven. in Cristo patri et domino reverendo, O., Dei gratia, etc., W., miseratione, etc., salutem. Noverit vestra paternitas reverenda quod, cum ecclesia de Staingreve, nostræ diocesis, per liberam et spontaneam resignationem Petri de Staingreve, quondam rectoris ejusdem, et per contentionem [de] jure patronatus inter Rogerum Bigod ex parte una, et Petrum de Staingreve predictum ex altera, quorum uterque verum ipsius ecclesiæ se pretendit esse patronum, in curia domini regis, ad quem hujusmodi questio de antiqua, approbata et hactenus pacifice observata consuetudine dinoscitur pertinere, subortam, tanto tempore vacaret quod ejus ad nos per statuta Concilii Lateranensis fuit hac vice collatio devoluta; nos discreto viro, ac dilecto et familiari clerico nostro, magistro G. de Cuberl' [1], eandem ecclesiam canonice et caritative duxerimus conferendam. Porro Johannes de Steyngreve, clericus, a dicto Rogero Bigot ad prefatam ecclesiam presentatus, ad nostram accedens presentiam, et ex hac nostra collatione ac alias indebite se gravatum pretendens, ad vestram appellavit presentiam sub hac forma :—

Cum a vobis, pater reverende, domine Ebor. archiepiscope, ego, Johannes de Steyngreve, clericus, alias appellassem in hac forma coram vobis, pater reverende, domine archiepiscope Ebor., ego, J. de Steyngreve, clericus, sentiens me gravatum indebite, eo quod, me non vocato, nec confesso, nec convicto, nec resignante, nec presente, nec per contumaciam absente, ecclesiam meam de Steyngreve magistro G. de Cumb', clerico vestro, contulistis, in mei prejudicium maximum et gravamen non modicum, presentiam domini legati, et in ipsius defectu Sedem Apostolicam, a vobis in scriptis appello, ac Apostolos peto cum effectu, supponendo me et omnia bona mea mobilia et immobilia jurisdictioni et tuitioni domini papæ et domini legati; ne vos, vel aliquis nomine vestro, in me vel bona mea, mobilia seu immobilia, vel aliquem ex meis, suspensionis, excommunicationis, seu interdicti [sententiam] fulminetis, seu alias quoquomodo gravare indebite presumatis. Actum apud Kawode in crastino S. Leonardi (Nov. 7), anno gratiæ M°CC°LX° septimo.

Vos etiam, cumulando injurias injuriis, ad docendum coram vobis de jure meo, scilicet ad procedendum, testes meos, dilationem nimis brevem michi prefixistis; propter[1] quod in forma predicta iterato appello, et Apostolos peto instanter, et appellationem a vobis alias interpositam innovo.[2] Item, cum vos ecclesiam de Stayngreve, cujus possessioni incumbo et dudum incubui, dicto magistro G. contulistis, lite inter dictum magistrum G. et me nullatenus contestata, nec processu habito super dicta ecclesia, michi diem ad docendum de jure meo et ad procedendum testes contra justitiam prefixistis; sentiens me indebite gravatum, dominum legatum, et in ipsius defectu Sedem Apostolicam, in scriptis appello, et Apostolos instanter peto; non artando me ad probationem omnium et singularum appellationum, set quatenus videro expedire, et sufficere debeat ad victoriam. Actum apud Kawode die Mercurii prox. post festum S. Leonardi (Nov. 9), anno supradicto.

Et, licet super premissis pro animarum salute et ad correctionem dicti Johannis, qui sine nostra auctoritate ordinaria dictam ecclesiam detinet occupatam, ex nostro officio processus coram nobis haberetur in parte, quem per appellationes predictas non vidimus infirmandum, set, eis potius non obstantibus, ad correctionem necessariam procedendum; ob vestræ tamen deliberationis reverentiam nostrum in hac parte processum vobis mittendum decrevimus, et predictis appellationibus vestro, si placet, discutiendis judicio, ad petitionem et instantiam dicti magistri G. detulimus reverenter; et eidem G., quem presens negotium contingere videbatur, ac etiam predicto Johanni, de ipsorum consensu, prefiximus terminum peremptorium in crastino S. Andreæ Apostoli (Dec. 1), quo per se vel per procuratores ydoneos, cum omnibus actis, rationibus, juribus et munumentis suis negotium hujusmodi contingentibus, compareant coram vobis ubicumque fueritis in provincia vobis decreta, processuri, facturi et recepturi tam super appellationibus quam super ecclesia memoratis quod justitia suadebit. In cujus rei test. has nostras litteras, quarum copiam dictis G. et J. sub sigillo nostro fieri fecimus, vobis et eis quorum interest transmittimus testimoniales.

Cum igitur in partes illas miserimus pro ipso negotio, et nos ipsi illac in proximo diverti speremus, dilectionem vestram rogamus attentius quatinus dilationem responsi pretacti non habeatis molestam, set nobis in hac parte parcatis; presertim cum non intendamus multum differre negotium, set, inquisito de rerum valore, vobis quamtociens respondere; idque comodius facere valeatis, quia nichil aliud recipitis in capella, et procuratorem habetis in prebenda qui bene procuret negotia, ut speramus.

Unde statuta eadem approbantes, ea sub pena canonica districte precipimus observari; penam infligendam, pro eo quod tam a priore quam conventu contemptibiliter neglecta fuerant, nostro arbitrio reservantes.

And added some new ones. Prior to try to obtain the favour of rich men.

Adicimus autem, statutis eisdem quod prior, malitiam temporis considerans et attendens, sollicite studeat optinere gratiam et favorem patronorum domus, et aliorum qui sibi et suo monasterio prodesse poterunt et obesse.

Guests to be received pleasantly, if possible, by the prior.

Hospites autem, qui honestæ personæ fuerint, cum ad domum ipsam declinaverint recipiat, et recipi faciat vultu, prout decet, hilari et jocundo; et personaliter eos visitet, nisi impotentia vel alia causa probabili fuerit prepeditus, et tunc ad eorum exhilarationem et receptionem aliquem canonicum suo nomine deputet, qui ipsos secundum gravitatem personarum et merita exhilaret et honoret.

The prior to merit the love of the convent and do nothing without his council.

Item statuimus quod prior a suo conventu, prout regula sua docet, amari studeat potius quam timeri, et caritatem inter fratres nutriat et conservet. De arduis autem et majoribus negotiis domus absque consilio seniorum de conventu ordinare aut disponere non presumat.

Medicines to be reserved for the convent.

Item ne, occasione medicinæ quam subprior aliquibus infirmis prebere dicitur, domus ipso frequenti accessu egrotorum inutiliter oneretur, et[1] cura quæ subpriori ex officio imminet dampnabiliter negligatur; nolumus quod de medicina aut curatione circa seculares personas se ulterius intromittat, nisi forte ab aliquo patronorum domus, vel eis propinquo, aut aliqua honesta miserâbili persona caritative fuerit requisitus; nec tunc hoc faciat nisi de licentia prioris, si presens fuerit, aut de consilio seniorum domus, si priorem contigerit tunc abesse.

Any brother seeing a rule infringed is to speak.

Item, ut melius custodiatur inter fratres observantia regularis, sub obtestatione divini judicii precipimus, ut unusquisque alium super transgressione regulæ et statutorum sollicite studeat proclamare, nec hoc omittat timore amittendi favorem vel incurrendi odium alicujus, ne errorem fratris cui resistere debuit videatur ex silentio approbare.

[1] Ut.

Item inordinatas potationes penitus inhibemus. Statuimus quod si quis, post completorium vel aliis horis interdictis, extra formam quæ in regula traditur, bibere convincatur, pro tanto reatu in crastino in pane et aqua penitentiam agere compellatur. Si quis vero inordinate in curia vel extra portam per campos vel nemora evagetur, pro tanto temeritatis excessu, preter aliam penitentiam quæ arbitrio ordini(s) precedentis injungenda fuerit, di[s]ciplinam recipiat in conventu. Graviori autem animadversione plectendos esse censemus, qui ad hujusmodi potationes interdictas et inordinatos discursus fuerint assecuti.

Excessive drinkings forbidden, especially after compline.

Wanderings in the court-yard or in the country outside cloister forbidden.

Item, quia non est equa conditio infirmantium et sanorum, precipimus quod ad infirmorum ministerium aliquis canonicus compatiens deputetur, qui eis horas canonicas dicat, et cum opus fuerit divina celebret, et in cibariis et potibus secundum qualitates morborum et conditiones personarum pro facultatibus domus necessaria faciat ministrari.

A canon to be specially deputed to look after the sick.

De reddendis autem compotis nichil ad presens aliud statuimus quam quod in prefati predecessoris nostri statutis prospeximus contineri.

No order as to accounts

Ut autem hec statuta ab omnibus memoriter habeantur, ea, una cum statutis predecessoris nostri, ad minus bis in anno coram conventu precipimus publice recitari.

These statutes to be read twice a year.

Ac insuper alicui canonicorum ejusdem monasterii a suo priore injungatur, ut secundum regulam B. [2] This rule about paying the money of the house to certain canons thereof, who were to render accounts as to its disposal, does not seem to have been very efficacious in keeping the affairs of the monastery in good order. Perhaps Hutton Cranswick. This document gives a very good example of the meaning of the word "chantry." It was a service and not place, although it frequently happened that some addition was made to the church in which the chantry might be celebrated, and hence the modern use of the word as applied to a place instead of a service. The derivation of the word from the French Chanter shows it must have been primarily applied to a service.

The archb. quashes the election of Thomas de Whalley, a abbot of Selby, and appoints him by his own authority.

DCCXX. Accedentibus nuper ad presentiam domini W., Dei gratia etc., fratre Thoma de Whalleye, electo monasterii de Seleby, et fratre Ricardo de Friston, procuratore prioris et conventus de Seleby, eidem domino archiepiscopo insinuare curarunt quod, monasterio de Seleby nuper pastoris solacio destituto per cessionem David, quondam abbatis ejusdem, prefati prior et conventus eundem fratrem Thomam in abbatem ejusdem monasterii canonice elegerunt; quare petebant electionem hujusmodi per eundem dominum archiepiscopum confirmari. Set, quia idem electus alias prefuit monasterio supradicto et ejusdem cessit regimini ex causis latentibus eundem archiepiscopum in partibus London. procul extra suam diocesim existentem, ad instantiam dictorum electi et procuratoris, hujusmodi cessionis et causæ electionis, etiam et electi, magistro Roberto de Scardeburg', archidiacono Estriding', et magistro Philippo de Staunton, canonico Wellensi, commisit examinationem. Qui quidem magistri tam eundem electum quam sex testes, per ipsum et procuratorem predictum productos, in capella dicti domini archiepiscopi apud Ebor., super articulis supradictis in forma juris examinarunt, et ipsorum dicta per magistrum Johannem de Craucumbe, ad hoc specialiter a dicto domino archiepiscopo destinatum, redigi fecerunt[1] fideliter in scripturam; renunciatoque ex parte dictorum electi et procuratoris expresse ulteriori productioni, dicti examinatores attestationes hujusmodi sub sigillis suis inclusas ad eundem dominum archiepiscopum transmiserunt; prefatis electo et procuratori prefigentes diem Veneris prox. ante festum Nativitatis B. Johannis Baptistæ, (June 20, 1270), coram dicto domino archiepiscopo ubicumque fuerit in partibus London., ad faciendum et recipiendum in negotio electionis hujusmodi quod postulaverit ordo juris.

Die igitur Veneris antedicta, A.D. M°CC° septuagesimo, in capella domini London. episcopi apud Stibbenheye (Stepney) juxta London., coram domino archiepiscopo supradicto comparuerunt electus et procurator antedicti, petentes cum instantia attestationes predictas publicari et negotium electionis hujusmodi fine debito terminari; set, quia idem archiepiscopus extra suum ter[r]itorium fuerat, quesivit ab eisdem electo et procuratore si sibi placeret quod in negotio supradicto in ter[r]itorio procederetur alieno; ipsi petebant quod extra ter[r]itorium suum procederet et negotium hujusmodi terminaret. Publicatis igitur attestationibus et eisdem electo et procuratori facta copia earumdem, quesitum fuit si ipsi vellent inniti decreto electionis et aliis instrumentis processum electionis contingentibus, ex parte sua exhibitis una cum depositionibus supradictis; illisque quod sic cum effectu respondentibus, opposita fuerant quedam ex parte dicti domini archiepiscopi contra formam electionis in scriptis; receptisque responsionibus in scriptis ad eadem a prefatis electo et procuratore; habitaque aliquamdiu altercatione super eisdem, prefixit dictus dominus archiepiscopus eisdem electo et procuratori diem Martis proximam tunc sequentem (June 24), in capella sua apud Westmonasterium, ad faciendum et recipiendum in dicto electionis negotio quod justitia suadebit.

Die vero usque in crastinum continuato, prefatis electo et procuratore coram supradicto domino archiepiscopo in capella sua apud Westmonasterium juxta London. comparentibus, idem electus electioni predictæ, et omni juri quod sibi competit aut competere poterit ex eadem, in scriptis solempniter in figura judicii renunciavit sub hac forma:—Ego, frater Thomas de Walleye, electus monasterii de Selebyy, Ebor. dioc., minus confidens de electione de me facta, metuens ipsam in processu seu forma peccatis aut defectibus fore subjectam, eidem electioni de me factæ, et omni juri quod michi competit aut competere poterit ex eadem, expresse renuncio in hiis scriptis; petens humiliter et devote quod eidem monasterio, pastoris solatio destituto, de aliqua persona provida et honesta vestra velit reverenda paternitas auctoritate vestra ordinaria providere. Electione igitur supradicta nobis, ut predictum est, presentata, et rationibus hinc inde tam videlicet pro electione quam contra electionem propositis, demum tu, domine electe, de viribus electionis minus confidens, spontanea voluntate absolute et libere renunciasti omni juri quod tibi ex predicta electione competere poterat, necnon et omni appellationi jurisque remedio quod tibi competere poterat in hac parte; supplicans nobis[1] humiliter et devote ut de quacumque persona ydonea et honesta, prout secundum Deum expedire videlicet videremus, curaremus ipsi monasterio providere. Et nos ipsam renunciationem spontaneam admisimus, utpote qui ipsam electionem reputavimus vitiosam; considerantes tamen utilitatem monasterii meritaque tuæ personæ, qui in ipso monasterio diu es laudabiliter conversatus et ipsi monasterio quandoque utiliter prefuisti, atque fidele testimonium per litteras prelatorum de tua conversatione honesta post ipsius monasterii cessionem; credentes onera ipsius monasterii per te melius posse quam per alium relevari, utpote quem tam in spiritualibus quam temporalibus novimus circumspectum, de clericorum nostrorum et aliorum discretorum virorum consilio, te monasterii ipsius de Seleby regimini auctoritate nostra preficimus, et de te de nostra gratia speciali ipsi monasterio providemus; tibi in virtute obedientiæ injungentes quatinus curam tibi injunctam devote suscipias et in ea laudabiliter administres. The archb. to the king, excusing his refusal to admit Will. de Birlay, his nominee, to the church of Warsop, as Sir Rob. de Sutton, the true patron, had presented the dean of Lincoln, and the inquisition had found in his favour.

DCCXXIII.[1] Salutem. Cum explorati juris sit et rationi nichilominus consonum, quod etsi princeps quandoque precise scribat et rationabiliter, tamen exceptio seu justa excusatio admitti debeat, magnificentissimam magestatem vestram turbari non credimus, si quod aliquando scribitis excusatione legitima recenti expedire nequimus. Sane precepit nobis nuper excellentia vestra quod, quia presentationem vestram ad ecclesiam de Warsop', nostræ dioc., contra dominum Robertum de Sutton per considerationem curiæ vestræ recuperastis, Willelmum de Birlay, clericum vestrum, nobis per vos presentatum, ad eandem ecclesiam admitteremus. At ex parte magistri Willelmi de Lessington, decani Lincoln., coram nobis est excipiendo propositum quod, etsi legitima fuisset vestra recuperatio, ad executionem tamen mandati vestri in ipsius prejudicium et magis ecclesiasticæ libertatis enervationem procedere secundum canonicas sanctiones non possumus nec debemus, cum idem magister Willelmus per dictum dominum Robertum, filium et heredem patris sui, qui ex legitima successione paterna jus patronatus ejusdem ecclesiæ, utpote annexum, possidebat, ad eandem ecclesiam nobis dudum extitit presentatus, et, inquisitione sub forma debita secundum articulos consuetos sollempniter precedente, et pro dicto domino Roberto tanquam ejusdem ecclesiæ patrono et ipsius presentato sufficienter in omnibus faciente, auctoritate nostra legitime postmodum admissus, et in corporalem ac pacificam possessionem ejusdem ecclesiæ per nos inductus, ante omnem conquestionem super hoc motam, seu presentationem vel oppositionem a vobis factam, sicut de ipsius admissione et possessione nobis sufficienter ostendit. Insuper Sedem Apostolicam sollempniter in scriptis appellans, ne nos vel alius auctoritate nostra vel alterius dictum Willelmum de Birlay ad eandem ecclesiam de Warsop in prejudicium juris et possessionis suæ admittamus, vel admitti faciamus; protestans demum quod, si dictus Willelmus vel alius contra ipsum magistrum W. super eadem ecclesia coram nobis voluerit in forma juris experiri, servato ordine semper paratus erit se defendere. Cum igitur non minus per sacrorum canonum instituta quam per secularium principum decreta ecclesiam Dei gubernari sollicitius oporteat, nos attendentes expresse cautum in jure canonico quod presentatus ab eo qui jus patronatus ecclesiæ possidebat removeri non debeat admissus, licet jure postmodum evictum fuerit jus patronatus; et arbitrantes quod si de hujusmodi admissione ipsius magistri Willelmi et possessione sua, de quibus mandatum vestrum nullam facit mentionem, vobis similiter constitisset, littera vestra nequaquam sub hac forma processisset, ab executione mandati vestri ad presens subsistere, artati canonica justitia, credimus oportunum, presertim cum predictus vester presentatus die sibi assignato non fuerit legitime prosecutus.

DCCXXVI. W., etc., priori et fratribus de Ordine Predicatorum Beverlaci, salutem. Scientes vos fortes ecclesiæ Dei columpnas veritatisque fidei esse sine fictione precones, ad relevationem nostræ sarcinæ, subditorum nostrorum salutem, et meriti contemplationis augmentum, litteras nostras vestro et Minorum Ordinibus dudum meminimus concessisse, ut passim in vestra parochia confessiones possetis audire et penitentias injungere salutares; jure tamen nostro et nostri penitentiarii semper salvo. Verum, ex relatu fidedignorum, nunc et alias accepimus quod vos parrochianos S. Martini et S. Quocirca benignitatem vestram rogamus cum fiducia et affectu, quatinus, votum capellani predicti, Dei intuitu et precum nostrarum optentu, juvare volentes, ipsum in domo predicta jubere velitis admitti. Credimus enim quod necessarius erit domui, et tam in spiritualibus quam temporalibus per Dei gratiam fructuosus, vobisque regratiabimur cum affectu si per nos gratius optinuerit quod intendit.

Pro eo quod terræ nostræ averia ac alia nos contingentia in tua balliva bene se habent, grates Deo referimus et tuam diligentiam commendamus; volentes quod ab Umfrido, senescallo thesaurarii Ebor., bladum sub competenti foro recipias pro L marcis, in quibus idem thesaurarius nobis tenetur in omnem eventum, quia melius est habere quam petere quod debetur. De pecunia autem in qua dominus rex nobis per suam litteram obligatur, intromittemus quam citius poterimus, quod per vicecomitem Ebor. vel alio modo quo poterimus persolvatur. Ceterum super petitione domini comitis Warenniæ plurimum admiramur, et maxime si inde de novo domini regis habeat, sicut mandastis, preceptum; unde nolumus quod de terris nostris quicquam percipiat, set quod ipse et quilibet exactor hujusmodi, si necesse fuerit, per excommunicationis et interdicti sententias reprimatur. Scribimus insuper ipsi comiti et etiam vicecomiti Ebor., quod de terris nostris nichil exigant in hac parte; eisque aliquantulum comminamur. Scribimus insuper domino regi, rogantes quod, cum turbationis malitia jam cessaverit, sicut speravimus, exactionem hujusmodi revocet sine mora; et quando inde habuerimus litteras eas tibi mittemus. Nostras autem comiti et vicecomiti directas exhibere poteris, quando videris expedire; necnon et eas quas officiali nostro mittimus, si necesse fuerit, ut per eas auctoritate nostra exactores compescat. Ad hec regratieris affectuose domino vicecomiti Ebor., pro eo quod de pecunia in qua dominus rex nobis tenetur, sicut predictum est, nobis vellet satisfacere, et per Dei gratiam superimpetrabimus ei litteras de waranto. Pro eo quod super fructibus sacristiæ nostræ, quam in ecclesiæ Ebor. optinemus, inter vos et nos contractum habitum ac conventiones initas, quando a vobis de Anglia recessimus cum domino legato, quasdam difficultates ingerentes, retractatis, ac minime, prout nobis a procuratore nostro datum est intelligi, cui fidem adhibemus in hac parte, curatis observare; immo ad ecclesias dictæ sacristiæ nostræ facitis ad cautelam presentari, ut ipsam seu fructus ipsius pro precio minori quam nobiscum convenistis habeatis, non desinimus quam plurimum admirari; maxime cum in moderatione firmæ ipsius sacristiæ et termini solutionis ipsius vobis fuerimus annuentes, et super hoc vestram fecerimus penitus voluntatem, licet ab aliis exinde recipere plus possemus et habere. Quare paternitati vestræ reverenter supplicamus quatinus dictas conventiones et pacta firmiter et fideliter observetis, ita ut vobis et nobis utilitati cedat pariter et honori; et ne etiam fructus dictæ sacristiæ, pro quibus multo magis haberi consuevit quam modo reddere teneamini, mediantibus conventionibus supradictis, per vos non minuantur, set potius, tamquam per bonum et diligentem patremfamilias, augea[n]tur. Mallemus tamen quod apud vos potius quam apud reliquos remanerent, cum vos ceteris tamquam caput et dignior preferri debeatis.

DCCLI. Venerabili viro et domino karissimo, A., Dei gratia tit. S. Praxedis S. Romanæ ecclesiæ presbitero cardinali, W., permissione ejusdem, etc., salutem, et cum reverentia et honore ad sua beneplacita se paratum. Sepe mutuo scripsimus et rescripsimus super pensione quam a nobis petitis, et super prebenda quam cancellarium Ebor. vobis dicitis detentare, et qualiter pro reformatione pacis ad bonum vestrum laboravimus, sicut intelleximus, bene nostis. Unde, si circumspectioni vestræ placeret, retardatio solutionis pensionis petitæ non nobis deberet inpingi, quia nunquam subterfugimus quoquomodo, set semper egimus bona fide dominationi vestræ affectu quo possumus, sup[p]licantes quatinus ordinationi provisæ per talium industriam qui Deum timent, norunt justitiam et in veritate vos diligunt, deposito quolibet conscientiæ scrupulo, pro bono pacis animum liberaliter applicetis, et eam insuper confirmari auctoritate Sedis Apostolicæ procuretis. Ipsa enim honesta est, placens partibus et secura, nichilque sic de vobis debitis deperibit. Attendentes, si placet, quod ambigua sunt fata causarum, et si prebendam fuissetis aliquatenus consecuti, parum vobis accrescerit nisi honus et obligatio curaque consequens animarum. Nos autem semper faciemus gratanter pro viribus quod justitia suadebit cum benignitate, tamquam speramus apud vos et credimus invenire. Quantumcumque per turbationem regni, per sterilitatem terrarum, per reparationes maneriorum, per negotia viri magnifici, domini Edwardi, domini regis primogeniti, necnon et totius regni nobis commissa, circa quæ propriis impendiis militamus, ac per contributiones multiplices, sicut satis poteritis intelligere per relatum, adeo deprimamur quod non sufficiunt nobis nostra pro honore ecclesiæ conservando, statuque pacifico regni salvando, set compellimur impendere etiam ultra vires. Dilectum autem filium cancellarium monuimus et induximus, sicut mandastis, set ipse suæ confidenter adheret justitiæ, et paci sicut diximus prolocutæ. Taliter igitur intuitu Jhesu Cristi providere curetis, quod, sedata qualibet materia questionis, procurare possumus licentius quæ vobis sint placita, et ad id fortius astringamur. Valeatis.

The archb. to R., cardinal of S. Angelo.

Much rejoiced at receiving your letter.

DCCLII. Venerabili in Cristo patri et domino, R., Dei gratia S. Angeli diacono cardinali, W., permissione ejusdem, etc., cum recommendatione devota omnimodam reverentiam et honorem. Litterarum vestrarum lectio, cum narratione portitoris earum, reddit nos jocundos, pro eo quod vestræ dominationis specialitatem, de qua speravimus et speramus, concedi nobis liberaliter invenistis. Unde, quantumcumque per a[d]versitates temporum et contrarietates eventuum deprimamur, gratanter faciemus pro viribus quæ nobis vester nuncius viva voce suggessit, et procuratori nostro in Curia nunciamus inde plenius velle nostrum, sicut proculdubio vobis referet consequenter; set quantum possumus serenitatem vestram humiliter et devote deposcimus, quatinus super missi modicitate nobis parcatis, et gratiose dignemini recipere quod animo valde grato et ad majora benivolo est oblatum. Audistis, inquam, et certos vos esse credimus per relatus, quod a creationis nostræ tempore, turbatione regni et discordia procerum facientibus, compulsi sumus pro sedatione continue laborare; et quas expensas circuitus talis inter omnes terræ magnates requirat vestra discretio satis novit. Supervenit insuper terrarum sterilitas de anno in annum, quod nostra nobis sufficere non poterant, nec a nobis tenentibus, qui eodem laborabant defectu et per diversos predones fuere destructi. Poteramus suffragia mendicare, vel etiam vix petere quod specialiter debebatur, et inter hec attamen domos, terras et alia in maneriis nostris, quasi direptioni tradita, reparare. Acciderunt etiam decima domino regi concessa et contributiones diversæ, quæ multipliciter nos gravarunt. Et ecce, quando credidimus respirare, dominus Edwardus omnia sua, quando se paravit ad transitum, nobis cum fiducia speciali commisit. Quæ quidem cura nos reddit adeo curiosos, quod perraro propriis intendere possumus et ad tempus; facientibusque quibusdam turbidis et malevolis, pacem in regno possumus vix tenere. Et preter donaria quæ sibi ac aliis nobilibus consanguineis, ac aliis cum eo transeuntibus oportuit exhibere, propriis militamus inpendiis, et ea per hoc facimus graviora. Iccirco, de vestra benignitate sperantes, nos et omnia quæ nos tangunt excellentiæ vestræ et gratiæ commendamus, ut pretextu gravaminum et honerum premissorum nostri memores et nostrorum negotiorum promotores fore velitis, quia ad vestra beneplacita pariter et mandata nos semper promptos reperietis pro viribus et devotos. Ex quo, si vestræ discretioni placeret, collegisse possetis quod, cum multorum indigeamus industria clericorum, vix ipsis qui nobis adherent possumus providere; presertim cum quasi medietas prebendarum nostrarum sit sub manibus alienis, (ita quod ad nos illarum collatio poterit vix devolvi, nisi vestra aliorumque dominorum nobis subveniat benignitas in hac parte), et prædictis dominis prebendarum hujusmodi vacatio sit perrara; unde est quod qui per multa tempora ante creationem nostram familiares extiterant talis beneficii sunt expertes. Placeat igitur serenitati vestræ, cui semper obtemperare cupimus et pro viribus obedire, nobis parcere, si in dicto magistro non complevimus votum vestrum; quia cum quosdam respexerimus, quibus pro meritis diutinis obligamur[1] et verecundamur non adimplesse promissum, precum vestrarum recordabimus et eisdem satisfacere procurabimus, prout poterimus, hillariter et libenter, utpote qui paternitatis vestræ beneplacitis semper esse volumus, sicut debemus, obnoxii[2] et devoti. [1] John de Pontayse, or Pontissara, collated to the archdeaconry of Exeter Dec. 22, 1274, was bishop of Winchester 1282—1304. He occurs again in No. 913 as one of the proctors sent by the province of Canterbury to Innocent V., who was Pope from Feb. 23 to June 22, 1276. He also held by dispensation the living of Welwick in Holderness (Papal Letters ii., 451); and it seems likely that the above letter from Modena was sent to the archbishop as an excuse for non-residence, hence its occurrence in these pages.

Cum inter Ricardum de Schyreborne, rectorem ecclesiæ de Egemanton, ex parte una, et dominam Clementiam de Meynyl, dominam villæ ejusdem, ex altera, super quibusdam articulis suborta fuisset materia questionis, placuit tandem partibus eisdem per viam pacis et concordiæ questionem hujusmodi terminare, et sic se submiserant partes prefatæ ordinationi, statuto, seu laudo venerabilis patris, domini W., Dei gratia, etc., tactisque sacrosanctis corporale sacramentum prestiterunt, quod ejusdem domini archiepiscopi ordinationem, statutum, diffinitionem seu laudum alte et basse per omnia illibate observabunt. Nos igitur W., Dei gratia, etc., super articulo primo, de subtractione videlicet cujusdam annuæ prestationis vij quart. et iij buss. avenæ, ecclesiæ de Egemanton debitæ et consuetæ, ordinamus et diffinimus quod predicta domina prefato rectori et ecclesiæ suæ predicta vij quart. et iij buss. avenæ solvat apud Egemanton, sicut retrotemporibus fieri consuevit. Super arreragiis vero subtractis pronunciacionem nostram reservamus. Oratorium vero quod ipsa domina erexit in parochiali ecclesia de Egemanton in prejudicium matricis ecclesiæ, irrequisito nostro consensu, suspendimus, et oblationes ibi perceptas ecclesiæ matrici decernimus restituendas. Super decimis autem pannagii, herbagii, gardini, parcorum et orti, volumus quod [per] officialem archidiaconi et decanum nostrum loci illius diligens fiat inquisitio; et, si inveniatur ecclesiam de Egemanton fuisse in possessione premissorum et per dominam Clementiam possessione hujusmodi destitutam, volumus et diffinimus quod premissorum fiat restitutio, sicut retrotemporibus fieri consuevit, et solutio eorundem. Super equis dicti rectoris captis per dominam et abductis, volumus et sub pena excommunicationis inhibemus ne de cetero capiantur nec abducantur per eandem, preter licentiam et voluntatem dicti rectoris. Sciatis quod Matheus Vermund' et Herbertus Vermund', mercatores de Cambr', invenerunt nobis plegios, scilicet, Willelmum Oliver', Willelmum de Cambr', Egidium Oliver, Arnulphum de Cambr' et Egidium de Are, quod octoviginti saccos lanæ, quos predicti Matheus et Herbertus de licentia nostra ducunt ad partes transmarinas, non ducent ad partes Flandriæ seu alibi infra potestatem comitissæ Flandriæ, nec cum mercatoribus Flandriæ de eadem lana per artem vel ingenium seu alio quocumque modo communicabunt, nec etiam aliquibus mercatoribus hujusmodi lanam mercatoribus Flandriæ seu aliis de Flandria vel Haynonia vendere volentibus tradent, vendent seu alio modo dimittent; et etiam sacramentum corporale coram nobis prestiterunt, et nos inde securos fecerunt, quod si aliquid contra premissa vel aliqua premissorum fecerint, et de hoc nobis constiterit, tunc predicti M. et H. de trangressione et precio lanæ predictæ nobis respondebunt ad voluntatem nostram. Nos in forma predicta concessimus predictis M. et H., quod de lana illa negociari et commodum suum inde facere possint, prout sibi viderint expedire, dum tamen non communicent cum illis de partibus Flandriæ, seu aliis qui lanam illam ad partes Flandriæ ducere, et mercatoribus Flandriæ vendere voluerint, sicut predictum est. Et ideo vobis mandamus, quod eisdem M. et H. in ducendo lanam predictam et commodum suum inde faciendo, sicut predictum est, non inferatis vel inferri permittatis injuriam, etc.

Inter sollicitudines quæ nobis in nostra provincia committuntur, ipsæ nos pungunt precipue quæ circa personas religiosas vertuntur, ut reformetur status ipsarum et deinceps firmius observetur. Sane quantumcumque devotionem vestram pro regularis observantia disciplinæ viderimus commendandam, imperfectum tamen vestrum juvare volentes et pro viribus nostris supplere, subscripta vobis in virtute obedientiæ et sub pena canonica injungimus adimplenda. In primis, quod cum, priorissa, gregi tibi commissæ, salva ordinis disciplina regularis, te conformes, ne per rigorem torpeat vel per tollerantiam insollescat; vos autem, omnes et singulæ de conventu, obedientiæ debitum in singulis vobis secundum regulam vel ad bonum ordinis ex deliberatione precepta sinceriter observetis, ut sic vera probetur conformitas in capite et membris, ne, si de rebellione vos convinci contigerit, improbitatem vestram gravi cogamur animadversione punire. Silentium insuper in locis debitis precipue, introitumque et exitum claustri, melius solito, horis presertim suspectis, precipimus communiter observari. Secreta etiam colloquia inter moniales et sorores, vel inte[r] se invicem, aut cum secularibus personis interdicimus, nisi sit super necessariis domus vel ordinis; et hoc custode presente, ne de conspiratione vel aliquo inhonesto suspicio oriatur. Et, cum deceat vos singulas uno regi consilio, bonumque domus vestræ tam intra quam extra debeatis in omnibus affectare; in virtute professionis vestræ vobis injungimus quod ea quæ in parliamentis vel secretis colloquiis proferuntur, ad quascumque de conventu quomodolibet pervenerint, nullatenus revelentur; quia nonnunquam ex hujusmodi [revelationibus] religiosis provenit scandalum et jactura; et insuper qui secreta detegunt, credimus excommunicationis sententiam incurrisse ipso facto. Ceterum, quia ex defectu victualium, sicut dicitur wlgo, oritur sepe contentio, et, sicut dicit Apostolus, non alligandum os bovis arantis, volumus quod conventus de cetero melius procuretur; et ut hoc quiescius et honestius fiat, volumus quod quadraginta marcæ, ad sustentationem conventus per aliquem fratrem de domo industrium dispensandæ, de communi consilio deputentur, quousque domus a debitis melius relevetur. Hec autem ad presens vobis mittimus ad reformationem domus vestræ [et] quietem, eaque precipimus plenius observari, penaque condigna fuere curabimus, secundum juris rigorem, quas contravenisse percepimus vel etiam oberrasse. DCCCXXII. De Willelmo [de] Percy, se gerente pro rectore plurium ecclesiarum, ut infra:—Decano tali salutem. Dolentes referimus et frequenter revolvimus contristati, qualiter Willelmus de Percy, plurium ecclesiarum curam habentium animarum, nostræ et aliarum diocesium, se gerens intollerabiliter pro rectore, fructus usurpat annuos earundem, et tanquam homo militaris qui titulum clericatus habere videtur pro delicto, inter curiales discurrit scur[r]iliter vagabundus, et officia laicalia quæ sunt clericis prorsus a canone interdicta, subire sine delectu, non absque scandalo et offensa et animæ suæ pernicioso periculo, non veretur, cujus sanguinis nobilitas deberet omnia quæ scrupulum inducunt conscientiæ, cum timore Domini, dedignari. Nos insuper, advertentes in ipso quod bonis moribus videtur violentius adversari; videlicet, quod, absque dispensatione Sedis Apostolicæ, sacros ordines non ingressus, titulum institutionis non adeptus, fructus et proventus diversarum ecclesiarum parrochialium non tam percipit quam usurpat, ipsum, prout nostro officio incumbit, sepe monuimus ut ordinum susceptione se rehabilitaret, prout decuerit, ad regimen animarum, et gratiam Sedis Apostolicæ super pluralitate beneficiorum quibus incumbit sibi fieri procuraret; sed, nostris persuasionibus, more rebellium, non inclinans, in perceptione fructuum, clericum (in prophana conversatione laicum) intollerabiliter se configens, sibi ipsi contrarius inhonestissime pervagatur. Nos igitur, pestem tam notoriam et prolixam non valentes diutius tollerare qui passi sumus cauterium[1] conscientiæ frequentissime in hoc facto, tibi mandamus quatinus fructus et proventus talis et talis beneficii, cujus possessioni incumbit non canonice sed hostiliter sicut predo, integre colligas, et collecta salvo custodias donec de eisdem vel inter pauperes parrochianos distribuendis, vel circa refectionem edificiorum, quæ passus est suo tempore miserabiliter concidere in ruinam, seu ornamentorum ecclesiæ necessariam reparationem quam negligenter pretermisit expendendis, disposuerimus prout cautum[2] fuerit de consilio peritorum. Volumus etiam et mandamus quatinus severitate canonica compescas contradictores seu rebelles, et ceteros omnes, cujuscumque conditionis fuerint, qui te turbaverint in premissis. Moneas insuper dictum Willelmum, si presens fuerit, alioquin facias monitionem in ecclesiis tui decanatus sollempniter publicari, quod in proximis Quatuor Temporibus se nostro conspectui representet, prout decuerit, ordinandum; et dispensationem Sedis Apostolicæ, si quam super hujusmodi beneficiis habeat, coram officiali nostro Ebor., in crastino B. Michaelis, sub edicto peremptorio studeat exhibere; alioquin extunc de beneficiis quorum rectorem mendaciter se confingit via canonica disponemus. Dat., etc.

[1] In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) Maude, widow of Richard de Clare, earl of Gloucester, brought an action against John de Eyville and Gilbert de Clare, earl of Gloucester, concerning the church of Athelingflet. She claimed the presentation on the ground that Roger de Mubray, in whose guardianship the lands and body of the said John de Eyville were, when he was under age, presented John le Fraunceys in the time of Henry iii. Eyville, when of age, enfeoffed her husband in a bovate of land in Athelingflet and the advowson, and these had been assigned to her in dower. Eyville replied that the church was full, as Godfrey Giffard had been admitted on his presentation. The countess answered that the presentation was fraudulent, as Godfrey was the archbishop's brother, "qui ad favorem et promotionem ipsius magistri Godefridi, fratris ejus, ipsum magistrum admisit iiij^to^ die vel quinto post mortem ipsius (sic) le Fraunceys, infra quod tempus notitia de morte ipsius Johannis ad predictam commitissam propter brevitatem temporis non potest pervenire." W., permissione, etc., dilecto in Cristo filio, archidiacono Cliveland., vel ejus officiali, cum benedictione gratiæ plenitudinem et salutis. Mandatum domini papæ nuper super crucis negotio recepimus exequendum. In quo mandato inter alia continetur quod nos illud faciamus quod de trunco in generali concilio ordinatum extitit observari; videlicet, ut in singulis ecclesiis truncus ponatur uniclavus, tribus clavibus consignatus, prima penes episcopum, secunda penes ecclesiæ sacerdotem, tertia penes aliquem religiosum laycum conservandis; et ut in eo fideles quilibet, juxta quod Dominus eorum mentibus inspiraverit, suas elemosinas deponere in remissionem suorum peccaminum moveantur. Et in ipsis ecclesiis semel in ebdomada pro remissione peccatorum, et presertim offerentium elemosinas, certa die, quam tamen sacerdos pronunciet populo, missa publice decantetur. Quocirca vobis mandamus, in virtute obedientiæ qua nobis et Sedi Apostolicæ tenemini firmiter injungentes, quatinus istum articulum in singulis ecclesiis dicti archidiaconatus sine moræ dispendio faciatis effectum mancipari. Taliter vos habentes in negotio memorato ut exinde apud Deum vestrorum augeatur cumulus meritorum. Valeatis. Sub forma autem prescripta directa fuit presens littera omnibus archidiaconis per Ebor. diocesim constitutis.

DCCCLXXXV. 6 kal. Martii, pontificatus nostri anno primo (Feb. 25, 1275-6). Laterani. [1] Innoce[n]tius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, venerabilibus fratribus, archiepiscopo Ebor., ejusque suffraganeis, et dilectis filiis, abbatibus, prioribus, decanis, archidiaconis, prepositis, et aliis ecclesiarum prelatis per Ebor. provinciam constitutis, salutem et apostolicam benedictionem. Fundamentum aliud ponere nemo potest preter id quod positum est, quod est Cristus Jhesus. Hic quidem, origo inchoantium et constantia robustorum, suo sanguine sanctam catholicam fundans ecclesiam, juxta prophetarum eximium [vaticinium],[2] in montibus sanctis ejus fundamenta constituit illius super se basibus solidatis, et mensuras mensus ejusdem tetendit non tam visibilem quam intelligibilem lineam super eam, hinc interdum ducta linea, hinc reducta, ut in sagena ecclesiæ ipsius electos includat, [et][2] ab illa reprobos, pro arbitrio ducentis et reducentis, excludat. Sic, sicut ille, terrarum celique sator, perpetua ratione solus omnia disponit et ordinat, inmotusque permanens in se ipso ire jubet singula, dat cuncta moveri juxta omnipotentiæ suæ nutum, cunctorum motus moderans et processus; sic singulis pro sua dividens voluntate, hunc vocat et eligit, hunc electum in electorum consortium non admittit. Hinc etiam, si faciat in omnibus mirabilia magna solus, super filios tamen hominum terribilis in suis consiliis innotescit. Quis enim, absque terrore, consideret quod gratia Domini solum a vocante conceditur, nec ex operibus obtinetur; quod indurat quos vult, et cujus vult, prestando ei misericordiam miseretur; quod vocat ea quæ non sunt tamquam ea quæ sunt, infirma mundi eligens ut fortia quæque confundat; quod hos exaltari permittit ad casum, alios vero humiliat ad ascensum; quod super occulta cordis spatia incomprehensibiles dimensionis hujusmodi lineæ protenduntur, ut repellantur aliquando qui secuturos se offerunt, et qui relaxari cupiunt admittantur. Hujus divisionis tremenda proculdubio hiis diebus, prout dividenti placuit, sorte in nostra promotione recepta, eoque terribiliori quo sublimiori atque onerosiori super nos distributionis ejusdem cadente

Item intendit inquirere qui sint consentientes dicto priori, in conjurationibus et conspirationibus memoratis.

Item an dictus prior post suspensionem suam in (temporalibus et spiritualibus ministraverit quoquo modo.

Item an prior fecerit aliquod instrumentum communi sigillo signari, ex cujus consequentia oporteret bona domus distrahi et dilapidari, in prosequendo contra archiepiscopum aliquid conspiratum.

Item an decidant jura ecclesiæ, vel domus propter defectum prioris dampnum aliquod patiatur.

Item an prior contra archiepiscopum ingratitudinem commiserit, deferentem litteras suas a monasterio expellendo. Fatetur.

Item an prior propter suspensionem convolaverit ad vetitum examen in com. Ebor., de archiepiscopo querimoniam deponendo.

Item an dictus prior interpellaverit vicecomitem Ebor., quod interponeret partes suas ad liberationem suorum concanonicorum, qui per laicam potestatem a districtu ecclesiæ liberari non debent secundum canonicas sanxiones; sed ecclesiasticæ personæ in districtu laicali detenti consueverunt per sacram matrem ecclesiam hactenus liberari, et adhuc idem fiet, non obstante dicti prioris conamine, Domino disponente.

Anno ab incarnatione Domini M°CC°LXX° quinto, nonas Oct. (Oct. 7), inquisitione in prioratu de Boulton per nos, W., etc., canonice celebrata, inventus est W. Hog, prior ejusdem loci, per confessionem propriam, et quidam etiam sui concanonici similiter per eorum confessionem sunt inventi conjurantes et conspirantes nobis, contra canonica instituta. Item compertum est per ejusdem confessionem, quod fecit quoddam procuratorium sigillo capituli consignari, ad prosequendam conjurationem superius annotatam; per quod oportuit dilapidari bona monasterii et dampnabiliter dissipari.

Item compertum est quod, per ipsius desidiam et defectum, sunt quædam monasterii bona perdita et dilapidata, pro fidelitate comitisse Albemarliæ nondum facta.

Item compertum est quod prior, post visitationem nostram sibi et conventui demandatam, precepit canonicis suis, in virtute obedientiæ, quod in nostra visitatione in omnibus concordarent; et sic spiritualibus, non obstante nostra suspensione, immiscuit se ut prior.

Item compertum est, per ejusdem confessionem, quod a dicto prioratu fecit expellere quemdam famulum nostras litteras deferentem.

Deposition of the prior.

Et omnia premissa in subsidium confessionis dicti prioris sunt per testes, omni exceptione majores, legitime comprobata. Et, quia premissa tam in juris canonici quam ecclesiæ nostræ Ebor. redundant contemptum, Nos, in Dei nomine Amen, dictum Willelmum Hog, priorem, juris ordine in omnibus observato, deponimus, justitia exigente, et eum tamquam immeritum et dampnosum ab administratione sua sententialiter amovemus; decernentes ipsum fore ad prioratum alium transmittendum. Confirmacio. In Dei nomine, Amen. Nos W., etc., auditis et intellectis meritis electionis factæ de fratre Thoma de Wathenowe in priorem conventualis ecclesiæ de Falleye, quia eam invenimus de viro ydoneo canonice celebratam, eam pontificali auctoritate duximus confirmandam, sibi in spiritualibus administrationem, et, quantum in nobis est, in temporalibus concedentes. Obedientia confirmati. Ego, frater Thomas de Wathenowe, electus et confirmatus canonice in priorem de Falleya, promitto vobis domino W., etc., ac successoribus vestris in Ebor. ecclesiam canonice intrantibus, et sanctæ sedi ecclesiæ memoratæ, obedientiam in canonicis mandatis, subjectionem et reverentiam.

DCCCCXII. Noverint universi quod nos, W., etc., inquisitionis et visitationis officium exercentes apud Falleyam vij idus Julii (July 9) A.D. M°CC°LXX° sexto, quia Radulphum, priorem ejusdem loci, certis de causis reperimus amovendum, ipsum in nomine Dei, Amen, ab administratione, dignitate et officio prioratus sententialiter amovemus. Visitation of Felley.

Item, quia per Radulphum de Codenore, super fornicatione graviter diffamatum, scandalum turpiter suscitatur, precipimus quod idem Radulphus claustrum non exeat nisi in comitiva prioris vel supprioris, donec per gestum suum ac conversationem laudabilem et honestam hujusmodi scandalum sopiatur, ac a nobis gratiam meruerit exeundi.

Item, quia Robertus Barry quedam bona de domo subtraxit, et cum mulieribus frequentius conversatur, quorum pretextu inhonesta predicantur de ipso, volumus et precipimus, quod similiter in claustro se teneat pacifice, suum sequens conventum, in nullo existens officio, donec de sua melioratione[1] et vitæ honestate constiterit per indicia manifesta, et a nobis gratiam obtinuerit ampliorem.

Item, quia filius Willelmi de Dounham nimis frequentur ingreditur ad patrem suum, ac idem W., paterno ductus affectu, aliqua quæ domi possent prodesse committit filio, matri quæ in vicino habitat deferenda, sitque suspicio quod sicut canis ad vomitum ita redeat ad peccatum, precipimus quod idem una cum aliis claustrum non exeat, sed conventum sequatur ut decet, donec suspicio incontinentiæ hujusmodi penitus auferatur.

Et, quamvis alios de conventu super pluribus merito redarguere valeamus, hoc tamen sub spe meliorationis differimus ista vice, in Domino fiduciam obtinentes quod religio et honestas et obsequium Altissimo placabile vigebit decetero penes ipsos. Precipimus, itaque, in Domino ut suæ professionis regulam curent ex animo observare; in omnibus ipsos contingentibus taliter se habentes quod odor famæ suæ preterita vitia auferat et expurget, ut a Domino gratiam in presenti consequi mereantur et gloriam in futuro. Statuimus autem et precipimus, firmiter injungentes, quod prior, qui pro tempore fuerit, et conventus totaliter hæc predicta observent ac faciant observari, ne ad eorum negligentiam vel contemptum artius puniendum oporteat nos manum apponere graviorem. impositam sarcinam, secundum immensam et insolitam taxationem [a] modernis opinatoribus introductam ob imperitatem (sic) collectorum, absque detrimento perpetuo scandaloque dampnoso sustinere nequibit. Collectores, namque, ad eamdem decimam colligendam in diversis diocesibus assignati, ultra taxationem ecclesiasticorum [reddituum] [1] beneficiorum, verum valorem multociens excedentem [2] ac collatorum et eisdem vicinantium juramentis firmatum, estimationis ipsius quartam, quandoque tertiam, frequenter taxationibus adiciunt prejuratis; sicque possessores, qui possessis integris [vix] [1] poterunt sustentari, de non habitis vel habitis decimam prestare coguntur. Ab eisdem etiam estimatoribus genus mirabile taxandi mirabile reperitur. Beneficiatus, autem, in illis ordinibus constitutus quos beneficii sui cura requirit, et eidem [etiam] beneficio personaliter obsequens, postquam verum valorem fructuum annuorum ecclesiæ juratus edixerit, tantam quantitatem summæ juratæ tenetur adjungere quantam capellanus pro suis stipendiis in eodem beneficio recipere consuevit. Et, si plures presbiteri, ob amplam parochiam, forsitan obsequantur eidem, decimam illius quod in pecunia numerata, nomine stipendiorum, ipsi capellani recipiunt, prestare compellitur ecclesiæ rector invitus. Ex eo, etiam, insolito modo taxandi premissis graviora contingunt. Subditi etenim, redditibus suis taxandis sacramento astricti, cum sub debito juramenti certam summam prefinire cogantur, et asserere bonorum valorem non excedere summam illam, aut veram estimationem excedunt,[3] ut suam conscientiam illesam conservent, et sic decimam illius quod in bonis nullatenus reperitur indebite compellimur exsolvere; aut citra verum valorem nonnunquam moratur, pro eo quod, secundum fertilitatem et sterilitatem diversorum annorum, estimatio reddituum variatur, ubi certitudinem aliquam peritissimus dicere formidaret; et ita frequentius proprii redditus estimator scrupulum conscientiæ non evadit, set primitus notam perjurii, et postmodum irregularitatis maculam, latenter incurrit. Quamobrem murmur communiter est in clero, qui per taxationem alias inauditam in immensum gravatur, et tumultus in populo, qui, reddituum ecclesiasticorum ignarus, clericis generaliter perjurii reatum impingunt. Ex hiis, sane, verisimiliter est verendum ne tale scandalum apud laicos generetur, quo, ipsi clerum ecclesiæ Anglicanæ perjuriis [et] irregularitatibus, interdicti, suspensionis et excommunicationis involutum sententiis,

[1] Although it is not stated for what House these rules were made, it is likely that they were for the Austin Canons of Felex in Nottinghamshire, which was the object of the archbishop's solicitude in Nos. 411, 412 and 416. However that may be, the House in question was peopled with canons and ruled by a prior, which is consistent with the supposition that the House was Felex.

recipiant et inde plene respondeant coram priore et senioribus de capitulo; proviso quod singuli eis respondeant de singulis expensis, ita quod compotus sit integer et minime dividatur, quod audito compoto manifestetur status domus veraciter in conventu. Quod duo de discretioribus canonicis, vel unus cum celerario, mittantur ad singula maneria domus ad videndum instaurum, et qualiter omnia conserventur; in omnem eventum de statu singulorum plenius eis constet. Quod celerarius [peragat] suum of[f]icium, et ministri domus ei obediant sicut decet. Quod provideatur de debitis domus solvendis. Quod prior in majoribus negotiis, utpote in emptionibus, venditionibus, et traditionibus terrarum, ac aliis majoribus negotiis, utatur consilio conventus et maxime seniorum; proviso quod nulla signetur scriptura sigillo conventus super alienationibus, traditionibus, vel aliis magnis contractibus, nisi prius tractetur in conventu communiter de eadem, et non nisi omnibus consentientibus vel majori parte conventus. Quod bona pertinentia ad fabricam ecclesiæ alicui discreto et benivolo committantur, ut ecclesia melius cooperiatur, ne per distillationem pluviæ pereat, sicut jam cepit. Quod domus infirmariæ cooperiantur. Quod cantariæ pro defunctis, ad quas obligatur monasterium, fiant decetero sicut fuerant ab initio constitutæ. Quod silentium melius solito observetur. Quod non fiat discursus secularium in infirmaria sicut hactenus. Quod infirmi decetero melius procurentur, et provideatur eis secundum infirmitatum quorumlibet qualitatem, quominus ad illicita manus extendere compellantur. Quod in refectorio non admittantur hospites ita passim sicut hactenus, et maxime minus honestæ personæ. Quod elemosina melius custodiatur decetero, colligatur et distribuatur. Quod canonicus, nobis insciis restitutus de novo, non restituatur ad locum suum plenarie, nisi peracta penitentia et de nostro consensu, ne facilitas veniæ pariat incentivum peccandi. Hæc autem omnia supradicta precipimus in virtute obedientiæ corrigi infra mensem.

Further injunctions

In nomine Domini, Amen, etc. Compertum est per inquisitionem, factam ut decuit in conventu, quod ea quæ in proxima visitatione nostra tam ore quam littera corrigi precepimus et servari, in nostri contemptum et non modicum domus dispendium animarumque periculum, adhuc penitus remanent incorrecta, immo ex pernicioso negglectu inobedienter videntur esse rejecta, maxime cum excessus pristinos hactenus continuari pateat evidenter. Ob quod prius injuncta, secundum quod ea in scriptis dedimus, volumus recitari et ea per singula precipimus observari, contemptum premissum taliter puniendo, ut scilicet ad honestatem et decorem (sic) ordinis et carnalium affectuum repressionem, carnibus in refectorio secundis feriis non utantur; et, donec omnia sic negglecta ad statum debitum reducantur, semel singulis mensibus in secunda feria presens scriptura, una cum priori, publice coram omnibus in capitulo perlegatur. Majores, autem, et quos invenerimus in hac parte decetero contemptores, gravius ratione previa puniemus. Ad hæc, quia scriptum est, Væ soli,[1] et regulares maxime vitæ suæ decet habere contestes, precipimus quod canonici, cum ad visitandum amicos exierint, sine concanonico non incedant. Item, ut septa monasterii a discursu tam regularium quam aliorum melius conserventur, precipimus quod muri, sepes, et fossata circa curiam et gardinum citra yemem reparentur, ita quod non pateat alicui transitus per eadem. Item, injungimus priori et subpriori, quod canonicos de levitate suspectos faciant decetero artius custodiri, ne pro suæ voluntatis arbitrio sicut hactenus evagentur, et per insinuationem clamosam in dedecus congregationis, super hujusmodi strictius procedere compellamur. Ceterum, quia expositis articulis fratri Hugoni de Farendon coram toto conventu, videlicet quod idem Hugo suscitator est discordiarum et litium inter fratres et intollerabilis, quod etiam composuit famosum libellum de nobis, archiepiscopo, priore suo, et aliis de conventu, diligenti inquisitione prehabita, compertum est quod idem Hugo intollerabilis est, rixosus et perniciosus socius inter fratres, et de sua furia valde timetur, et quod de sui correctione quasi ab omnibus desperatur; de famoso, vero, libello, [quia] tum per confessionem ejusdem, tum per inquisitionem legitimam plene liquet, decernimus ipsum Hugonem sicut hactenus custodiri, donec, deliberatione prehibita ac contritione ejus et melioratione visa plenius et experta, de eo secundum sua merita aliter duxerimus ordinandum. Volumus tamen quod prior canonicis suis indulgeat quod ipsum, causa solatii et salutis animæ, possint aliquociens visitare; ita, tamen, quod non detur inde materia conspirandi. Servantibus, autem, premissa gratiam repromittimus et honorem; non servantibus, vero, penam condignam pro meritis comminamur.

DCCCCXVI. Anno ab incarnatione Domini M°CC°LXX° sexto, vij idus Julii (July 9), facta inquisitione contra Radulphum, priorem de Felleye, super certis articulis sibi editis et in scriptis, videlicet an domum obligasset pro debito alieno, an fidejussisset seu alias obligasset domum similiter pro debito alieno; an correctiones fecisset in capitulo ut deberet; an seruram rupisset, ubi sigillum commune erat inclusum, contra voluntatem conventus; an manus violentas injecisset in concanonicum vel conversum, et si sic, an divina postea celebrasset vel alias immiscuit se divinis; an per desidiam vel incuriam domus qualitercumque passa fuerit lesionem. Compertum est, tam per confessionem dicti prioris quam per testes juratos et examinatos, bona domus tum per fidejussionem tum per obligationem dilapidata et domum damnificatam; et hoc etiam per facti evidentiam satis constat. Item, compertum est quod idem prior in Alanum, concanonicum suum, manus injecit temere violentas, et nichilominus immiscuit postea se divinis. Item, compertum est quod seruram fregit temere prelibatam contra voluntatem conventus. Item, compertum est quod idem prior non facit correctiones in capitulo ut deberet; nec est sufficiens illud officium sustinere, propter debilitatem suam et senium ac senectam. Quia, igitur, nos, Walterus, permissione, etc., tenemur statum dictæ domus, prout nobis possibile fuerit, in melius reformare, auditis et intellectis hiis quæ superius sunt expressa,—In Dei nomine, Amen, dictum priorem deponimus et eum a sua administratione sententialiter amovemus; injungentes conventui quod alium ydoneum eligat in priorem, qui sciat et valeat, tam in temporalibus quam spiritualibus, domum ut convenit gubernare.

Articles against Ralph, pric of Felley.

Prior deposed by the archb.

Item, facta visitatione et inquisitione, compertum est, quod Radulphus de Kodenore habet quamdam concubinam apud Anesleye, de qua suscitavit prolem; per quod religionis honestas dehonestatur et scandalum turpiter suscitatur. Cum igitur nostrum sit huic morbo pontificali auctoritate remedium adhibere, precipimus quod idem Radulphus decetero non exeat claustrum suum nisi in comitiva prioris vel supprioris, donec scandalum auferatur et a nobis gratiam debitam meruerit obtinere. Et quamquam eundem possemus merito gravius condempnare, de melioratione[2] sua et honestate futura firmam spem et fiduciam reportantes, sibi parcendum duximus ista vice.

Ralph of Codnor, a canon, foun guilty of immorality

His punishment

Item compertum est quod Robertus Barry alias quedam

Robert Barry, guilty of theft and immorality.

bona domus subtraxit, sicut constat conventui, et quod cum mulieribus consuetudinem habuit inhonestam, et liberos suscitavit; et quod unam habet apud Notingham concubinam noviter impregnatam. Et, quia per hoc scandalum nequiter generatur, volentes contra hoc remedium adhibere, precipimus quod idem claustro suo adhereat pacifice in futurum, donec de sua melioratione et vitæ suæ honestate constiterit per indicta manifesta, et gratiam exeundi a nobis meruerit optinere. Et, quia inhonestum est quod taliter diffamatus in spiritualibus subprioratus curam gerere debeat, ipsum a subprioratus officio amovemus. Et, quamquam super aliis quæ non sine interjectione verecundiæ possumus recitare, punire possemus et graviter condempnare, ipsius tamen punitionem expectando, si velit honestius se habere, nostro adhuc arbitrio reservamus.

His punishment.

Will. of Dunham found guilty of immorality and taking goods of the convent.

Item, compertum est quod Willelmus de Dunham de Rosa, muliere quadam, filium suscitavit, quia frequenter ingreditur domum, et ea quæ ibi potest adquirere defert matri suæ, quæ habitat in vicino, et suspicio est quod dictus Willelmus per filium suum intermedium copiam habeat matris suæ, et quod, sicut canis ad vomitum, redeat ad peccatum. Ne, igitur, religionis honestas per talem insollentiam penitus corruat et succumbat, precipimus quod idem claustrum suum non exeat, donec suspicio incontinentiæ penitus auferatur. Quod si precepto nostro presumpserit contraire, ipsum ad aliud monasterium transferemus, et ipsum etiam alias puniemus quod alii delinquere decetero formidabunt.

His punishment.

Et, quamquam alios de conventu possemus merito condempnare, eorum tamen punitionem sub spe meliorationis adhuc nostro arbitrio reservamus. Quod si quis ex nunc tam audax[et] temerarius inventus fuerit, quod a domo sua sine prioris sui licentia recedat, et temere pervagetur, et in rebus nugatoriis tempora sua consumat, religionis morem tali facto perperam et bonæ famæ odorem in animæ suæ periculum denigrando, ipsum a domo sua tanquam arborem infructuosam curabimus extirpare et expellere, sine spe funditus redeundi.

Examination of Roger of Ingoldby, subprior.

Frater Rogerus de Ingoldeby, subprior, juratus et examinatus, dicit quod conjuratio et conspiratio facta fuit per priorem contra archiepiscopum, quia per verba inductiva dicendo, Videbo quis juravit, et postea comminando dixit, Videbo quis voluerit consentire. Et conventus præ timore quodam juravit, et iste juratus dicit quod contra conscientiam suam juravit. Item dicit quod prior post suspensionem ministravit in omnibus sicut prior, eo excepto quod non ingrediebatur chorum, capitulum, nec refectorium, sedendo in loco prioris, set in parliamento se habuit sicut prior. Item, juratus et examinatus dicit quod quoddam procuratorium fuit communi sigillo signatum ad prosequendum negotium inchoatum, et si illud negotium fuisset prosecutum secundum quod extitit contra archiepiscopum conspiratum, domus confusa fuisset irremediabiliter et destructa. Item dicit quod per defectum pricris est[2] domus dampnificata usque ad xij marcas, tum in expensis, tum in equo dato, tum in pecunia numerata,[3] pro eo quod non accessit ad comitissam Albemarliæ pro fidelitate facienda pro terra de Harewode. Item dicit quod prior precepit quod deferens litteras archiepiscopi expelleretur a domo. Visitatus et examinatus dicit quod obedientiarii nimium morantur aliquando in suis officiis, et nimium evagantur, ita quod divinum officium prepeditur.

predicta, et ecclesiæ de Kanteley, plene Ebor. ecclesiæ reservamus. Ordinamus quod archiepiscopus Ebor., qui pro tempore fuerit, de ecclesia de Karleton, salva portione prefata, et ecclesiæ de Kanteleye predictis, cum eas vacare contigerit, de personis ydoneis provideat, prout animarum saluti viderit expedire. Solutio etiam pensionum xx^{ti} solidorum de ecclesia de Karleton et ij marcarum de ecclesia de Kanteley, quas prefatæ priorissa et moniales ab ecclesiis ipsis percipere solebant, auctoritate hujus ordinationis cesset in posterum et penitus evanescat. Priorissa autem et moniales supradictæ ad ecclesiam de Maresey, de consilio et assensu archiepiscopi, qui pro tempore fuerit, infra mensem a tempore vacationis personam ydoneam presentabunt; alioquin licebit archiepiscopo illa vice de ecclesia ipsa pro suæ voluntatis arbitrio libere providere. Si vero super jure patronatus alicujus ecclesiarum predictarum contigerit contentionem aliquam suscitari, priorissa et moniales ipsæ litem usque ad finem negotii cum sumptibus archiepiscopi prosequentur. Reservamus autem nobis potestatem ordinationem ipsam corrigendi et mutandi pro nostræ voluntatis arbitrio, qualitercumque ecclesiarum utilitati et animarum saluti viderimus expedire. Quod si ista ordinatio, aliquo casu contingente, processu temporis infirmetur, volumus quod res ad statum pristinum revertatur, ita quod jus monialium quod in ecclesiis prefatis, tam quo ad patronatus quam quo ad pensiones predictas, ante tempus ordinationis istius habebant, eis in omnibus preservetur.

Fo. 146 DCCCCXXI. Anno ab incarnatione Domini M°CC°LXX° quinto, xiiij kal. Oct., (Sept. 18), visitatione facta in prioratu de Novo Burgo, tam in capite quam in membris, per nos, W., permissione, etc., compertum est quod domus oneratu est ere alieno usque ad summam dccxxxvij li. xv j s. x d.

Visitation of Newburgh Priory.

House heavily in debt

Houses not to be built without leave.

Item compertum est quod quedam camera apud Fresch' inutiliter est constructa, pro qua re conventus plurimum est turbatus; unde inhibemus ne decetero domus aliquæ construantur nisi de assensu saniorum et seniorum de conventu; proviso quod opera magis domui necessaria preponantur; quod si secus fiat, constructorem graviter puniemus; et pro constructione cameræ memoratæ penam reservamus nostro arbitrio infligendam.

Prior to be stricter with the servants.

Item compertum est quod prior in suo officio est nimium mansuetus, et permittit obedientiarios nimis voluntarie agere facta sua; et, quia super hoc est merito increpandus et etiam puniendus, nisi fiat correctio super hujusmodi in futurum, eum taliter puniemus quod excedere in aliquo ipse et alii formidabunt.

Item compertum est quod subprior de facili provocatur et in capitulo suos fratres irato animo aliquociens pertractat, contra officium caritatis; quod decetero fieri prohibemus, injungentes sibi, sub pena amotionis sui status, quod cum omni moderantia et modestia erga suos fratres se habeat in futurum, eos informans in spiritu lenitatis verbo pariter et exemplo.

Subprior to keep his temper.

Item compertum est quod celerarius nutrit equos aliquociens de communi, et de ipsis negociatur secundum quod faciunt mercatores, quod religionis non congruit honestati; quod, de cetero sub pena amotionis sui status, fieri prohibemus, et eo magis pretextu quod inter ementis vendentisque commercium difficile est non intervenire peccatum; et istam inhibitionem et penam ad alios obedientiarios in delicto consimili extendemus.

Cellarer not to deal in horses.

Item compertum est quod idem celerarius non benigne alloquitur suos fratres nec etiam extraneos, ut deceret; propter quod domus multorum gratiam demeretur. Et, quia convenit suo officio presidenti extraneos et alios placare per verba mollia et mellita, injungimus ei, sub pena premissa, quod decetero cum mansuetudine et omnimoda benignitate se habeat erga omnes, ut per suum factum et gestum domus valeat a forensibus, ut est opus, gratiam promereri.

And to be more civil his brethre & stranger

Item compertum est quod custos fabricæ de officio suo, nec de suis sumptibus in partibus transmarinis, et etiam citra, factis, hactenus compotum non reddidit ut deceret, nec se habet in suo officio secundum quod esset fabricæ oportunum, ob quod precipimus quod, recepto compoto ab eodem, sibi dicta obedientia auferatur, et alii qui sciat et valeat dictum officium gubernare ab isto die post mensem utiliter assignetur.

Keeper of the works lose his offi for not keeping accounts.

Item compertum est quod gardinarius extra domum nimium evagatur et suum non regit officium ut deberet; propter quod eundem a dicto officio decernimus amovendum, precipientes quod loco suo alius infra quindecim dies utiliter subrogetur.

Gardener lose his pla for going abroad.

Item compertum est quod in camera veteris prioris fiunt confabulationes aliquociens inter fratres, et quod laici et alii seculares illuc confluunt nimis crebro, quod non congruit honestati; et, quia in hujusmodi confabulationibus et etiam confluentiis ac discursibus possent inutilia pertractari; volentes periculo in hac parte quatenus possumus obviare,

No gatherings or talkings to be tolerate in the late prior's chamber.

inhibemus, sub pena excommunicationis, ne decetero aliquis illuc vadat, nisi de prioris vel subprioris licentia speciali; quod si secus actum fuerit, contravenientes graviter puniemus.

The statutes of the archb. and his predecessor to be observed.

Item compertum est quod nostra vel etiam predecessoris nostri statuta non sunt ut congrueret observata, quod in nostri contemptum videtur non modicum redundare; et, licet super hoc contemptores possimus et etiam debeamus merito condempnare; volentes adhuc eisdem parcere mansuete, sub spe correctionis debitæ in futurum, punitionem differimus et ex causa; quod si aliquos decetero in hiis et in aliis invenerimus transgressores nostras comminationes curabimus effectui mancipare, ita quod eorum punitio metum incutiet animis plurimorum.

Custody of conventual seal.

Ad hec, quia expedit quod sigillum commune fidæ custodiæ committatur, volumus et precipimus quod tres de sanioribus et senioribus de conventu ipsius custodiæ deputentur; ita quod quilibet eorum habeat unam clavem, et etiam habeat prior quartam; proviso quod posthac nulla cum ipso sigillo littera consignetur nisi in presentia totius conventus littera prius recitata; et hoc fieri precipimus sub pena excommunicationis, quam ex nunc in contravenientes proferimus in hiis scriptis.

Statutes to be read four times a year on chapter.

Et, quia volumus quod tam nostra quam predecessoris nostri statuta salubriter edita singulorum mentibus ac memoriæ commendentur, volumus et precipimus quod eadem quater in anno in capitulo plenarie recitentur, ut eo efficacius fratres inhibita declinent et permissa sectentur.

Actum die et anno supradictis. Per premissa vero vel aliquod premissorum non intendimus regulæ B. Augustini in aliquo derogare.
